NEWSPRINT TO COST MORE--OPA

Effective September 1, 1943, the ceiling price of standard newsprint paper will be increased $4.00 per ton, the Office of Price Administration and the Canadian Wartime Prices and Trade Board announced today.

This will bring the manufacturers' ceiling "port price" for newsprint to $58.00 per ton, with maximum prices for the various newsprint zones adjusted accordingly.

Today's joint announcement is made well ahead of the effective date for the convenience of both the newspaper publishers and the newsprint producers concerned.

All standard newsprint paper sold in the United States will be governed by the new ceilings, and newsprint prices in Canada will be advanced an equivalent amount.

Current United States consumption of newsprint is approximately 300,000 tons per month, originating as follows: From the Canadian quota, 210,000 tons; from Newfoundland, 15,000 tons; from the United States, 70,000 tons. This represents an annual consumption in this country of 3,600,000 tons.

Other grades of newsprint which come under Maximum Price Regulation No. 139 (Standard Newsprint Paper) are also increased $4.00 per ton effective September 1. Newsprint commonly known as "side run news" will advance to $58.00 per ton, "port" ceiling. Superstandard newsprint will advance to $65.00 per ton, "port" ceiling.

Today's increase in maximum prices of newsprint was jointly announced by the Office of Price Administration and the Canadian Wartime Prices and Trade Board after OPA had consulted with representatives of the newsprint industry.

FRANK F. BROWN, WIDELY KNOWN SINGER DIES

By Opal Tandy

Frank Fowler Brown, a well known figure in the theatrical and musical entertainment world, was buried here this week after succumbing to a brief illness. He was 32 years old.

Brown had enjoyed an historic place in the entertainment field here and throughout the country years ago, but had retired except for directing Bethel A. M. E. church choir. Every episode of his colorful career, from the time he was born on the site of the present Lincoln Hotel until he attracted national attention with the road show, Mr. Lode of Coal, was punctuated with color, gaiety, and music.

In 1899, Brown was graduated from the Indianapolis High School (now Shortridge) and immediately began a career of music. He studied ALLIED COMMAND, North Africa.—A 99th fighter pilot, whose P-40 Warhawk was shot from beneath him thousand of feet in the air while serving as member of an escort squadron during a "softening raid on Sicily," ripped his parachute cord at 4,000 feet and "walked downstairs," landing in the sea near the coast of Sicily. He is Lt. George R. Bollings of Phoebus, Va., a graduate of Hampton Institute and Tuskegee Air School.

But the news of his successful return uninjured to his outfit after a week during which nothing was heard from him, rivaled that of the swift sweep through Sicily and the announcement that Mussolini had resigned.

One of two Tuskegee pilots listed as missing, Lt. Bollings' plane was hit by anti-aircraft fire and he was forced to jump after his P-40 began burning. The other pilot is believed to be Lt. James L. McCullin of St. Louis, a member of the escort flight of 12 fighters who met a greatly superior Nazi force and engaged in a fierce dogfight that lasted almost half an hour beginning over Sicily and ending near Pantelleria.

One of the enemy planes was shot down in flames by Lt. Charles Hall of Brazil, Ind., since promoted to captain, and several others were damaged or destroyed. With the return of Lt. Bollings the 99th casualty list or men missing in action is reduced to one, Lieutenant McCullin.

Lt. McCullin, star football player at Sumner of St. Louis and Kentucky State college, liked excitement and after his graduation enlisted in the air corps. A short time before he was reported missing he is quoted as having written

BAPTISTS PLAN HISTORIC MEET HERE AUG. 3-8

This city will become a mecca as hundreds and hundreds of delegates from every nook and corner of the state pour in here for the occasion as three combined organizations convene in a mammoth religious session to be held from August 3 until August 8, inclusive, at the First Baptist Church, North Indianapolis.

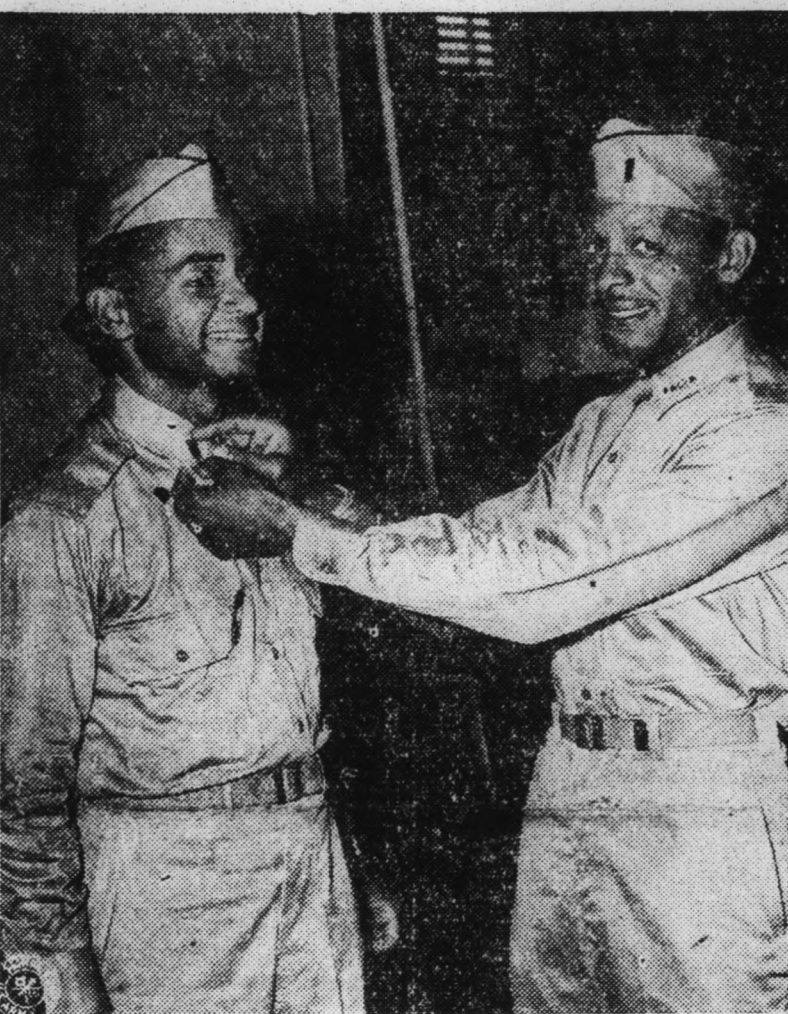

Of the first importance is the 86th annual meeting of the Indiana Missionary Baptist Association, closely allied with this is the 76th annual convention of the Ministers' and Deacons' convention. Finally, but of equal importance, is the 46th annual session of the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary convention.

Rev. Charles Henry Bell, pastor of the Mt. Paran Baptist church, is moderator of the State Association, and will preside over it. Rev. F. F. Young, pastor of the host church, is president of the Ministers' and Deacons' convention, and will preside over this convention. And Mrs. E. J. K. Hines, president of W. H. & F. M., will act in similar capacity.

Prominent Ministers
The entire session promises to be the most far-reaching in importance in the history of the association.

Williams Commissioned CW Lieutenant

EDGEWOOD ARSENAL, Md., July 24.—Second Lieutenant William A. Williams, 2358 North Capitol avenue, Indianapolis, Ind., grins happily as his fellow officer, 2nd Lt. James T. Ellerbe, 511 Pine street, Hamlet, N. C., pins to his collar the insignia of their new rank.

Both men graduated as members of the 24th Class of the Chemical Warfare Officer Candidate School at Edgewood Arsenal, July 24, as a member of the 24th class of Chemical Warfare School. Members of the class were chosen from the ranks for this school by their superior officers. The military records, education and character were among the qualifications taken into consideration.

Lieutenant Williams, whose residence is 2358 North Capitol avenue, Indianapolis, is a graduate of Crispus Attucks and the Indianapolis College of Pharmacy. He worked eight years as apprentice er was employed as field representative for the National Youth Administration (Keystone Center), serving as pharmacist and chemist. As an employee of the Senate Avenue YMCA, he likewise made an impressive record.

A member of Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity, the Indiana Drug Association and St. Rita's church, Lt. Williams is well known here and is one of the most popular men in downtown circles. He is married.

DETROIT, July 31, (ANP)—Henry A. Wallace, Vice President of the United States, addressing a meeting sponsored by the labor and civic organizations of this thriving city of war production on Sunday afternoon, firmly and with resolution declared that race riots, poll taxes, slum dwelling and military have no place in a full democracy.

Sound Ringing Calls To Re-Vitalize Nation

NEW YORK, July 30, (ANP)—Wendell L. Willkie, 1940 Republican presidential candidate, appealed to the American people to end discrimination against Negroes and pointed out that "all the forces of fascism are not with our enemies," in a broadcast.

The Willkie statement was added as a postscript to a broadcast by the Columbia Broadcasting System dramatizing the Detroit race riots designed to focus attention upon the dangers of racial disturbances in this country. The production, entitled an "Open Letter to the American People," took the time usually assigned to the radio show "Man Behind the Gun" and was carried by stations from the Atlantic seaboard to the West Coast.

The text of Willkie's address follows:

This is a time for serious thought and sober words. For the situation which flared so tragically in Detroit has its counterpart, actual or

SGT. HEATER IS SPECIAL GUEST AS SMITH HONORS SELECTEES; RECORDER AIDE ASKS UNITY

Several hundred persons from all walks were guests of George Smith, well-known former prizefighter, including Sgt. Preston Heater and W. Chester Hibbitt, RECORDER managing editor, at the CCC club in Northwestern avenue Wednesday night. The affair, given by Mr. Smith was in honor of his brother and several of his friends who are to be inducted into the armed services soon, was a tribute to the host and to the young men, all of whom are well known. They are Charles P. Myers, Mr. Smith's brother, George A. Fingers, and Sidney C. White. Mr. Myers in a short talk told the gathering that he would make the most of his opportunities and his record would be a credit to anybody. Sgt. Richard W. Crooms, Mr. Hibbitt, and others made short talks advising those on the home front to work hard and to give the boys in service fullest support.

Other guests included Griffin Toward, who assisted Mr. Smith as unofficial host; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Grieston, Esther Smith, Dorthal Johnson, Catherine Johnson, Mrs. Howard B. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. James Alexander, Zenobia Jackson, Rochelle Coleman, William Daniels, Elizabeth Johnson, Lillie Vaughn, Julia Baltnip, Thirty FIVE raw

HALL IN ACTION AGAIN; ROUTS 3 THUGS AT FAIR

The man who has caught or had many run-ins with burglars, stick-up men and other law violators, Ed Hall, special police at the Circle Motor Inn, is back in the news.

Assigned night at the Flanner House Country Fair, a job on which he has contributed his services and great interest for several years. Mr. Hall fired three shots at three young men about 2:30 Sunday morning after they attempted a stick-up.

He spotted them and questioned the men as to their activities on the grounds at that hour and was told by them that they were seeking information regarding possible employment.

"I went to my car in a roundabout way and played 'possum. When they thought I was asleep they tried to force money from a night watchman and another man at the point of a knife, but I got into action pretty fast and routed them before they had a chance to do any real harm," Mr. Hall revealed. He has caught several burglars in downtown buildings and is remembered as the man who had a long, hard fight with a thug in Fifteenth street last year.

Jo Baker Ignoring Illness To Help Win War, Build Morale Of All Allied Men in Africa

Eisenhower Scraps Laws; Bans Discrimination on Isle

Allied Headquarters in North Africa.—eGn. Dwight D. Eisenhower has been credited with launching the most effective verbal blow of the current campaign in the invasion message released to the Italian people.

Not only will Italy be returned to the status of a free nation but the hardest blow lay in the pronouncement that all "laws which discriminate on the basis of race, color, or creed," would be scrapped and henceforth inoperative.

Following the inevitable invasion of Allied forces as part of the war to destroy the German overlords of Europe, the Allies have pledged that the necessary steps will be taken to eliminate the Fascist system in whatever territory they occupy. Gen. Eisenhower is quoted as saying:

TEXT OF PROCLAMATION
The message was posted immediately after Allied landings on the island gateway to Italy.

The text of the proclamation:

"To the people of Sicily: As commander-in-chief of the Allied forces I transmit this message on behalf of the governments of the United States and Great Britain.

"Allied forces are occupying Italian territory. They are doing this not as enemies of the Italian people but as an inevitable part of their war to destroy the German overlordship of Europe.

IN ROLE OF DELIVERERS

"Their aim is to deliver the people of Italy from a Fascist regime which led them into the war, and when that has been accomplished to restore Italy as a free nation.

"Allied forces have no intention of changing or undermining the traditional laws and customs of the Italian people. They will take necessary steps, however, to eliminate the Fascist system in whatever territory they occupy.

"Accordingly, the Fascist organization will be dissolved and its appendages, such as the Fascist Militia and the so-called Youth Organization, will be abolished. Fascist doctrines and propaganda in any form will be prohibited. No political activity whatsoever shall be countenanced during the period of military government.

NO DISCRIMINATORY LAWS

"In furtherance of the policies of the Allied government proper steps will forthwith be taken to stop the operation of all laws which discriminate on the basis of race, color or creed.

ALGIERS, North Africa, July 31, (ANP)—"I'm so proud and thrilled at the great advancement my race is making in this war," Josephine Baker, the Philadelphia girl who made such a sensation with her singing and dancing in Paris in the middle 20's and who is still wowing audiences in gratis appearances before soldiers and sailors in North Africa, said in an interview here.

"That advancement is so evident and I see it so plainly in my appearances in Red Cross club theatres and in all my performances arranged by the army special services and the American Red Cross throughout North Africa."

Miss Baker made her first appearance in March in a Red Cross club in Casablanca. It was a gala occasion—the inauguration of four Red Cross clubs in that city and the former star of the Paris Folies Bergere sang in all four clubs that night. She received a rousing reception from both white and Negro audiences.

Since that time she has appeared under the auspices of the army special services and the Red Cross at rest homes, hospitals, soldier camps

Illness forced her to rest for a while. She had been in the spotlight of popularity for several years and when she came back from her enforced rest to give her talents as an aid to the war effort and to help her people, she found no waning of the spotlight in which she has been basking since the early and middle 20's.

Already she has appeared in Red Cross clubs and Red Cross operated theatres in Oran, Casablanca, Fez, and Algiers. Now she is continuing her appearances in a swing of the army camps under the auspices of the army special services.

"I am happy about it, too. She revels in the reception she receives from both white and Negro audiences. She has a simple philosophy. She thinks the war has made a lot of people understand a lot of things. And she believes they will understand a lot more after the victory.

canized fascism and the restoration of pre-war scarcity and unemployment."

Standing before the thousands who jammed the State Fair Grounds, and speaking into a microphone which was carrying his voice throughout the nation, the Vice President who has been called a "dreamer" by many because of his espousal of what he has called the "century of the common man" and a people's revolution, looked into the faces of the citizenry of a city which only a few weeks ago had been torn asunder by vicious and murderous racial conflict, and warned:

"We cannot fight to crush Nazi brutality abroad and condemn the riots at home. Those who fan the fires of racial clashes for the purpose of making political capital here at home are taking the first steps toward Nazism."

And so the Vice President, by a matter of five days, followed President Roosevelt in his condemnation of "outbreaks of violence" which he had declared in a letter to Congressman Vito Marcantonio of New York, "endangering our national unity and comfort our enemies."

In view of the demands that have been piling up at the White House for President Roosevelt to speak out against these riots, and considering the fact that high placed officials in government also have been urging the President to say something to the nation, the remarks of Mr. Wallace are being construed as the thinking and answer of the Chief Executive, and the directness of the speech is believed to reflect the serious concern that has been given to the matter.

Unofficially, there is confirmation for at least part of this belief in Washington circles.

"We cannot plead for equality of opportunity for peoples everywhere and overlook the denial of the right to vote for millions of our own people," the Vice President continued in his resounding attack upon the poll tax. "Every citizen of the United States without regard to color or whether he has moved to a great defense center or fighting front, is entitled to cast his vote."

Focusing his attention upon the inadequacy of good, livable housing, he continued: "We cannot offer the blueprints and the skills to rebuild the bombed-out cities of other lands and stymie the rebuilding of our own cities. Slums have no place in America. We cannot assist in binding the wounds of a war-stricken world and fail to safeguard the health of our own people."

His next dart was directed at education. "We cannot hope to raise the literacy of other nations and fall to roll back the ignorance that clouds many communities in many sectors of our own nation. Democracy can work successfully for that future which is its predestined heritage only when all people have the opportunity for the fullest education."

Starvation has no Bill of Rights nor slavery a Magna Carta, Mr. Wallace stoutly declared. Wherever the hopes of the human family are thwarted, there we find the makings of revolt, he said.

He contended that the American people have brought a "brave and clear" conscience to this crisis of all mankind, and that in that tomorrow when peace comes, education for tolerance will be just as important as the production of television.

potential, in many American cities. Such instances of mob madness cannot be treated as single cases, because they are profound in their effect in this country and lasting in their impression throughout the world.

Two-thirds of the people who are our Allies do not have white skins. And they have long, hurtful memories of the white man's superior attitude in his dealings with them. Today the white man is professing friendship and a desire to cooperate and is promising opportunity in the world to come when the war is over. They wonder. When the necessities of war cease to make cooperation valuable to the white man, will his promise mean anything? Race riots in Detroit do not reassure them.

Search for Basic Cause Asked
The situation is grave both at home and in its effects abroad. We must therefore seek the basic causes and find the ways for their elimination—practical, direct, positive ways.

One-tenth of the people in this country belong to the Negro race. In the spirit in which our independence was gained and our republic established, there are certain things these citizens are entitled to—not as a matter of patronage or tolerance, but as a matter of right.

They are entitled to protection under the law. And when their safety demands it, to prompt and vigorous enforcement of the law.

It is their right that there shall be no discrimination against them in the administration of the law, in federal, state and local governments.

They are entitled to the same opportunity to acquire an education—an education of the same quality—as that given to other citizens.

They have a right—as has every citizen—to the elimination of all arbitrary restrictions on voting, through taxation or otherwise.

Their right to work must equal that of any citizen and their reward should be the same as the reward of any other citizen for the same job.

Their economic opportunity should not be limited by their color.

And last they should have the right of every citizen to fight for his country in any branch of the armed services.

Reminds of Human Needs
These are merely rights that the Negro of our communities shares with other citizens. We must see to it that he gets them.

But in addition to his rights are certain human needs which he shares with his fellow citizens. And they, too, must be cared for. The most pressing today, for black and white, is adequate and decent housing. If this cannot be secured through the operation of our private economy, it is an obligation that must be undertaken by government—preferably local, but if necessary federal.

There is one thing further which seems to me to have a real bearing on the welfare of our Negro citizen. It concerns the Negro's political status.

Political Approach Scored
Our two major political parties have their separate ways of approaching the Negro vote. One has a tendency to ask the Negro for his vote as compensation for an act of simple justice done 80 years ago. The other retains political power by, in effect, depriving the Negro of his right to vote in one part of the country, while seeking his vote in another on the plea of great friendship for his race.

Both attitudes must be changed. One party cannot go on fooling itself that it has no further obligation to the Negro citizen because Lincoln freed the slave. And the other is not entitled to power if it sanctions and practices one set of principles in Atlanta and another in Harlem.

Our whole purpose today is, with our Allies, to defeat Fascism. But all the forces of Fascism are not with our enemies.

Fascism an Attitude of Mind
Fascism is an attitude of mind, an attitude which causes men to seek to rule others by economic, military, or political force or through prejudice. Such an attitude within our own borders is as serious a threat to freedom as is the attack without. The desire to deprive some of our citizens of their rights—economic, civic, or political—has the same basic motivation as the desire to dominate whole peoples and nations.

It is essential that we eliminate it at home as well as abroad.

FRANK BECKWITH SPEAKS ON 'THE MARCH OF FREEDOM'

"The cause of freedom has inspired our fighting men in every great conflict since Boston Common," asserted Frank R. Beckwith in an address delivered last week to the 32nd Aviation Squadron at Freeman Army Air Field. He pointed out that 80 per cent. of all the industry of the nation is now engaged in producing the implements of war for America's fighting men and their Allies.

Continuing, he said, "Pray believe me when I tell you that the thousands of civilians employed in those industries, cognizant of their obligation to you, are working overtime, are purchasing more than their required allotment of war bonds and are willingly discharging the terms of the rationing system in order that you may have every possible benefit that a grateful nation can bestow. The cause of freedom is marching tonight in the Pacific Zone and through Sicily. Its line of march is in no manner uncertain or mistakable. It leads definitely to the Axis capitals of Rome, Berlin, and Tokyo, carrying in its wake the permanent elimination of international gangsters and the establishment of a lasting peace for all peace loving people beneath the canopy of heaven."

The gathering which was the first to be held in the newly erected auditorium was attended by civilians from Madison, Hanover, North Vernon, Columbus, Seymour, and other points throughout southern Indiana. Sixty members of the WACs from Camp Atterbury under command of Lt. Sarah E. Murphy also attended and participated in the program. Musical numbers were rendered by Pvt. Levin Lansdowne, Pvt. Herman Moore, Aux. Hazel Washington, the WAC chorus, Mrs. Edward Mason and the 32nd Aviation Squadron quartet.

A dramatization, "First Sergeant Goes to War" was presented by Pvt. Samuel McElwee, Beckwith was introduced by Pvt. Napoleon Lewis. Closing remarks were made by Chaplain Wright, director of the USO at Seymour, Ind.

Colonel Runquist, commandant of the Post and other commissioned officers with their wives attended. Following the program the squadron orchestra rendered music for the dance which was held in the day room.

'HOLD JOB' WEEK PLAN STARTED

CHICAGO, July 23. (ANP)—Realizing that Negroes will lose their jobs in the post-war period unless definite steps are taken to maintain them, the National Hold Your Job committee is sponsoring a nation-wide "Hold Your Job" Week, Sept. 12 to 18, it was announced Thursday by Jeanetta Welch executive secretary of the committee. The committee was formerly called the Chicago Charter Committee on Employment.

During this "Hold Your Job" week, local groups and national organizations, will establish programs designed to reach the Negro worker on his job, in his home, his church and his community.

The continuations committee met in Chicago, July 13, 14, and 15 to formulate a national program which will stimulate groups and organizations to incorporate in their programs plans for helping Negroes keep their present jobs and upgrading to better ones. Members of the committee are Frayser T. Lane of the Chicago Urban League, chairman; Austin Scott, Chicago regional office, War Manpower Commission; Willard S. Townsend, president, United Transport Service; Horace Cayton, director of the Parkway Community Center. Among the organizations who later played with the Ethiopian Clowns.

From the Chicago Giants comes infielder Pvt. Ressa Irb, Pvt. Vernon Smith, pitcher who recently tossed a no-hit, no run game, formerly twirled for the Motor City Giants of Detroit.

All of the other members of the squad have played semi-pro baseball or have high school or college experience.

Clarence Summers, 37 years old, 1212 Cameron street, was found shot and critically injured under mysterious circumstances Monday, at 2129 Lexington street.

Police called there found Summers suffering from a wound in the side and rushed him to City Hospital in a city ambulance. Summers said that he had been shot at Keystone and Pleasant street and was brought to the Cameron street address, which is the home of Grace Hudgins, 30 years old, 2129 Fletcher street. The house is owned by Summers and is rented to Mrs. Hudgins. Dr. Clarence Harris, a physician, was there and after treating Summers called the police. Detectives, pleading together the case, decided that an argument had ensued between Summers and Mrs. Hudgins and arrested her on a charge of vagrancy.

Blast Whites For Detroit Conduct; Says Plight Wretched

Freedom of religious worship will be upheld, and to the extent that military interests are not prejudiced freedom of speech and of the press will be instituted.

"These evidence the principles to which the Allies are attached and for the re-establishment of which they will relentlessly fight. They are the principles to which the Axis leaders under German domination are opposed. You will be the beneficiaries of their defeat. It is therefore to your interests as men whose fathers fought for freedom not to resist the Allied arms but to facilitate their mission—the lifting of the Nazi yoke by quick and total victory."

OSCODA, Mich., July 30. (ANP)—Stirred by the attitude of white soldiers and civilian police in the recent Detroit riots and the failure of authorities to arm and use Negro soldiers in quelling the disturbances, 80 Negro soldiers stationed at Oscoda Army Air Field Friday signed and sent a letter to President Roosevelt protesting these conditions and asking that they be corrected in the future.

The Detroit riots, they declared, brought out in bold relief the helpless physical position of Negro civilians and soldiers. They charged that white police and white soldiers were largely responsible for much of the terrorism and murder of defenseless Negro citizens. They also charged from the testimony of eyewitnesses that, "The soldiers would allow white persons free passage over to the Negro community to make trouble but Negroes were not given corresponding protection. The soldiers assisted police in shooting all windows out of buildings occupied by Negro tenants. They yelled all sorts of insults at the Negro women."

These Negro soldiers, cognizant of the historic role they are called upon to play in the fight against Fascism abroad but fearful of the evidences of its rising tide at home, further asserted, "The Detroit riots are an example of the helpless, defenseless and demoralizing plight of the American Negro civilian and soldier in this nation's history. Nowhere in the nation can he, a soldier, protect himself from his enemies who are at the same time the enemies of justice and peace and of the principles of our democracy."

The specific requests made to the President were: "We ask that Negro soldiers in the armed services of the nation be immediately armed to the same extent and degree that white soldiers are armed; that Negro MP's be armed as white MP's; that during the time of riots, if the situation becomes serious enough that the army be summoned to assist or to take over, that a proportionate number of Negro soldiers (armed to the same degree as the white soldiers who are sent) be dispatched to the scene at once and not after the others have had all the honor of restoring peace. In the eyes of the enemy, an unarmed Negro soldier or an unprotected Negro civilian constitutes an invitation to attack just as an unarmed nation in the eyes of an aggressor nation invites attack."

The soldiers concluded, "Sir, as brave soldiers under the leadership of a wise and courageous commander, we feel that he will understand our wretched plight. We realize that even the President of the United States cannot be expected to accomplish everything in a day. But there are some things that must be done and the sooner they are done the better. We believe this merits your prompt and positive action for the good of America and the world. If, sir, you should in your judgement consider our request to constitute an unwise and inexpedient course of action, we ask as an alternative that you consider the immediate release from service those of us who do not wish to continue in this demoralizing plight."

CUTS MOTHER-IN-LAW
Mrs. Oretta hite, 19 years old, 1415 Mill street, was arrested this week on a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill after she allegedly cut her mother-in-law, Sarah White, 40 years old, 1216 East 15th street, several times on the body following an argument.

The women's quarrel apparently did not want to prosecute each other as Mrs. White said that Oretta struck her with her fist. Police confiscated a butcher-knife, Mrs. White, the mother-in-law was slated for assault and battery and vagrancy.

FIND MAN SHOT ON SOUTH SIDE
Clarence Summers, 37 years old, 1212 Cameron street, was found shot and critically injured under mysterious circumstances Monday, at 2129 Lexington street.

Police called there found Summers suffering from a wound in the side and rushed him to City Hospital in a city ambulance. Summers said that he had been shot at Keystone and Pleasant street and was brought to the Cameron street address, which is the home of Grace Hudgins, 30 years old, 2129 Fletcher street. The house is owned by Summers and is rented to Mrs. Hudgins. Dr. Clarence Harris, a physician, was there and after treating Summers called the police. Detectives, pleading together the case, decided that an argument had ensued between Summers and Mrs. Hudgins and arrested her on a charge of vagrancy.

WILLIS BROOKS
Final rites for Willis Brooks, age 73, who died at his home 2531 Northwestern avenue, July 23 were conducted at the Twenty-fifth Street Baptist church, Tuesday, July 27. Rev. J. B. Carter officiated. Burial was in New Crown.

The deceased is survived by five daughters, Mrs. Mattie Dulin, Mrs. Henrietta Harrison, Mrs. Ora Harris, Mrs. Elizabeth Brooks all of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Sude Chaney of Henderson, Ky.; six sons, George, Promise and Robert Brooks all of Indianapolis, Frank and Thomas Brooks of Charleston, Ky.; Walter Brooks of Charlton, Penn.; forty grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Amelia Noel of Indianapolis, and ten great-grandchildren.

ST. LOUIS LOSES CIO MEET; ON RACE BARRIERS
WASHINGTON, July 30. (ANP)—Having apparently overcome the prejudice against Negroes of the hotels of Philadelphia, at least temporarily, the Congress for Industrial Organizations, in all probability will hold its annual convention in the City of Brotherly Love during the first week in November.

James B. Carey, secretary-treasurer for the CIO, indicated Saturday that the racial attitude of the hotels in St. Louis had prompted them to look elsewhere for accommodations.

From another source it is learned that the decision to switch will cost the CIO about $400 a day extra in view of the fact that auditorium facilities will not be given them as had been the case heretofore in other cities. The sessions will be held in the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, but the managements of several other hostilities have been checked and have promised to conform to the non-discriminatory pattern.

At last year's convention in Boston about 12 Negro delegates attended along with about 50 other persons. About 500 delegates in all were in attendance. It was explained that there is always an excess number of persons attending conventions although the actual number of delegates may be small.

LAW AGENCIES AGREE ON PLAN

The three law enforcement agencies, sheriff, police chief, and prosecutor's office, have at last agreed on their policy of operation and apparently show no let-up in their combined drive on vice and general lawlessness.

On a report of liquor being sold Sergeant Leo Troutman and members of his squad found Charles Tallaway, 38 years old, 117 Emmett street, in the middle of the street, in the 700 block South Capital avenue, apparently drunk and with a knife in his hand causing a disturbance.

The officers went to 731 South Capital avenue, along with Tallaway arrested Charles Miller, 38 years old, 731 South Capital avenue; Sallie Mae Barnett, 31 years old, 532 West 16th street; Andrew Barnett, 54 years old, 842 South Illinois street; Mary Stepp, 47 years old, 945 South Capital avenue, and Charles West, 44 years old, 914 South Illinois street. They were charged with disorderly conduct, violation of the beverages act, profanity, and vagrancy.

The officers confiscated one metal serving tray one half pint of whiskey in one quart bottle, one empty half-pint whiskey bottle and three empty glasses.

Patrolmen John Metzger and Albert Booth arrested Joe Miller, 327 West 14th street, for vagrancy after he had been warned to get a job and refused to do so. He was discharged by Judge John L. McNelis.

Tuesday police were called to investigate two men in the 300 block Indiana. They found Max Hazlewood, 41 years old, 229 West Michigan street, in an automobile. In the compartment of the car and in the trunk the officers found a quantity of numbers slips, policy slip books and two policy books half-filled with numbers. Hazlewood was arrested and charged with operating a lottery.

sociations. Finishing his first year as moderator, Rev. Bell has stated that paramount interest will be centered on liquidating heavy debts that have occurred over a period of years and the formulating of a plan whereby more money can be spent in the interest of education.

The indebtedness of the State Headquarters is roughly $3,500. Rev. Bell said, and plans for this session call for the paying-off of this heaviest of all debts during the year 1944.

Much stress has been placed on the importance of giving scholarships which hit a low ebb because of the lack of money to carry on here and at the same time aid worthy students outside of the regular religious circle.

An interesting program has been arranged during the three sessions and some of the most prominent Baptist preachers from all over the adjoining states will take part.

They include Rev. A. W. Wise of Muncie, moderator of the North-eastern District Association, which is an auxiliary of the parent body; Rev. R. M. DeHoney, Rev. Bernard L. White, Rev. H. A. King, and Rev. L. C. Montgomery. The theme of the sessions is "Attempt Great Things for God and Expect Great Things from God."

General Robert H. Tyndall, mayor of the city, has been invited to attend the session on the opening day and deliver the welcome address, along with other high-ranking city officials. The women's auxiliary juniors will get underway officially Wednesday morning with Esther Hubbard, president, presiding. The theme is "Willing to Take the Cross That the World May Know." Rev. F. M. Weathers, prominent Richmond pastor, will preach. The afternoon and evening sessions of all the conventions will be marked with songs, reports and general religious entertainment.

Mrs. Hines has the distinction of having held her presidential position for almost 30 years, and Rev. Young has been in his position for three years. State officers excluding these are:

Rev. H. T. Toliver, first vice moderator; Rev. G. H. Burrus, second vice moderator; Rev. John T. Weed, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Doyse M. Cowherd, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Esther Hubbard, president, Junior convention; Mrs. Julia Leavell, president, W. W. G.

Later he went on road shows with Cole and Johnson in the then famous Red Moon, in that day it was booked as the hottest show to ever come to Indianapolis. During the periods that followed, Frank Brown played on the same bill with black Pauli, The Blackbirds, Joe Douglas, noted violin-playing grandson of the abolitionist, Frederick Douglass, Richard R. Harrison "De Lawd" of Green Pastures and the movie actor and comedian Al Jolson. He was responsible for the orchestra leader, Noble Sissle ever going to New York. He took him there, Brown's voice was discovered by Roxie Bell Hall while they both sang in a local choir, Mrs. Hall, an aged lady living in Detroit now, was sent a telegram by relatives telling of Brown's death.

When the show, Mr. Lode of Coal accepted Brown in its folds it gave him an opportunity to exploit and spread his vocal talents and he came into his own. The troupe toured and played at every leading place in the country.

For over 35 years Brown followed his profession. He married Miss Bessie Oliver, but at the time of his death was a widower and lived at 830 North West street, the family home.

Mr. Brown was stricken ill six weeks ago but became bedfast later. He underwent an operation at City Hospital and never regained consciousness.

At the services Tuesday afternoon from his church, Loretta Love sang, "Sing Me to Sleep," followed by another song rendered by Maude Wilson and Hayes Wilson. Rev. J. A. Alexander officiated. Survivors are a brother, Charles Brown, local political figure; a sister, Julia B. Farris; a nephew, Lieutenant Frank Brown, and other relatives. Burial was at Crown Hill Cemetery with the C. M. C. Willis Funeral Home in charge.

mother in a jaunty vein, and gave a little hint of his future destination.

Within a few minutes after the first troops landed on Sicily, a hard-driving and seasoned quarter-master outfit of colored soldiers, veterans of the North African campaign who know how to get the most done in the shortest time despite the ravages of block-bus and carnage of war, within a few minutes after the first Allied troops landed, these top-flight soldiers splashed through the surf and went about their particular phase of the invasion effort with calm and swift efficiency. Again and again colored soldiers and flyers have drawn the admiring comment of white Allied soldiers and commanders and the respect of the enemy and the natives because of their effectiveness. More detailed information is expected to be released through Washington sources relative to the invasion and the great part colored soldiers played in it.

SOCIAL WHIRL

Elizabeth Brizantine-Taft

DESPITE THE FACT that ole man Sol has persistently run up the thermometers to 91 in the shade and stuff, and despite the fact that many folk are now away on those much-needed vacations and Uncle Sam still persists in taking our beloved men to the army, there seems no immediate or affective lull in the social activities! Folks are just gathering together and having no end of fun, whether informal or formal, things are brightening up by way of picnics, luncheons and what wit' all the cooling refreshments via foods and drinks, there's little wonder they don't heed ole man Sol and rest up a bit!

A picnic was held Sunday afternoon at Douglas park at which time relatives and friends were united. Those in attendance included: the Leroy Moores and children, Mary Louise and Clarence, Mrs. Susie Madison, Mrs. George Madison and children, Mary Jane and Winona; Mrs. Lillie Bash and son, Leon, John Roberts, Marcellus Gaines, Mrs. Lizzie Campbell, Mrs. Margaret McReynolds, Mrs. Odie Watkins, Roy Owsley, Miss Maude Watkins and Master Jimmie Reeves, Masters Ronald Williams Jr., and Leonard Souther and Harry Pruitt. There was fun galore!

As a surprise, James Garner honored his wife, Marie, with a birthday party July 7 at the Federation of Associated Club's home at which time tables were beautifully decorated with roses and gladioli and a splendid program was rendered for the many guests who attended. Mrs. Ludie Miller presented the honor guest who received her many lovely gifts. Dainty refreshments were served . . . and speaking of refreshments, here's an interesting bit of news via the lemonade route! For quick lemonade, squeeze out enough fresh lemon juice for two or three days, then add half as much sugar as you have juice and put in a covered glass in the refrigerator. This keeps it fresh and it can be served in a jiffy. When the call is for lemonade, add ice and water to the "starter" and it's ready to serve. Lemons and beverages are close companions and their friendly affinity has established the lemon as a food necessity throughout the beverage realm. In case you haven't tried it, and you're wondering just what to serve that's cool and refreshing, add the juice of a lemon quarter to black coffee, hot or iced! You'll find it surprisingly good and what a treat for your guests!

These husbands are coming on as hosts! Clinton Williams gave a surprise party for his wife, Marian, in celebration of her birthday, at the home of the Payne Mitchells in W. 14 st. A beautiful and delicious two-course luncheon was served, after which she opened her many lovely gifts. Guests included Rev. Richard Hughley, Mrs. Sylvia Amos, Mrs. Bessie King, Miss Queen Esther Hamlett, Mrs. Cora Johnson and Miss Viola Saulters.

The Elmore Johnsons, former residents, but who now take their mail in Buffalo, New York, were home on a ten-day vacation visiting their respective parents. Apparently the Buffalo climate agreed with them and they seemingly are enjoying their home-making there. As a courtesy to them, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Lyons gave a surprise birthday dinner in their honor at which time covers were laid for eight. The guests who were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Marx, Mr. and Mrs. Kelly, Gracie Johnson and Mrs. George Miller, enjoyed dancing and cards. Mrs. Johnson, who was seated in front of a lovely birthday cake iced with pink and green decorations cut and served her cake, during which time, greetings were extended her. . . . Mrs. Lyons, who celebrates her birthday August 4, received a letter from Pfc. Earl Brown, whose birthday is August 3, and he wishes his many friends to keep their fingers crossed that he might win more stripes. He is now acting corporal! Mrs. Lyons wishes Pvt. Brown and Pvt. Gabby McReynolds (now serving in Rome, New York) to know that she will be thinking of them on her birthday this year, since a year ago, they helped her celebrate her birthday at her home in N. West st., with a lovely party. Mrs. Lyons plans to send Pvt. Brown a birthday cake in lieu of their double celebration last year! . . . While here on a furlough, Pvt. Brown enjoyed a dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lyons.

Several social courtesies were extended Mrs. James H. Harrison, of St. Louis, who was house guest of her sister and brother-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mills. The Thomas Oakleys entertained with an informal get-together Saturday night at home. Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. William A. Chambers, the Mills and Mr. and Mrs. John Southern. Mr. and Mrs. Allen Carter served dinner Wednesday evening for Mrs. Harrison and the Mills.

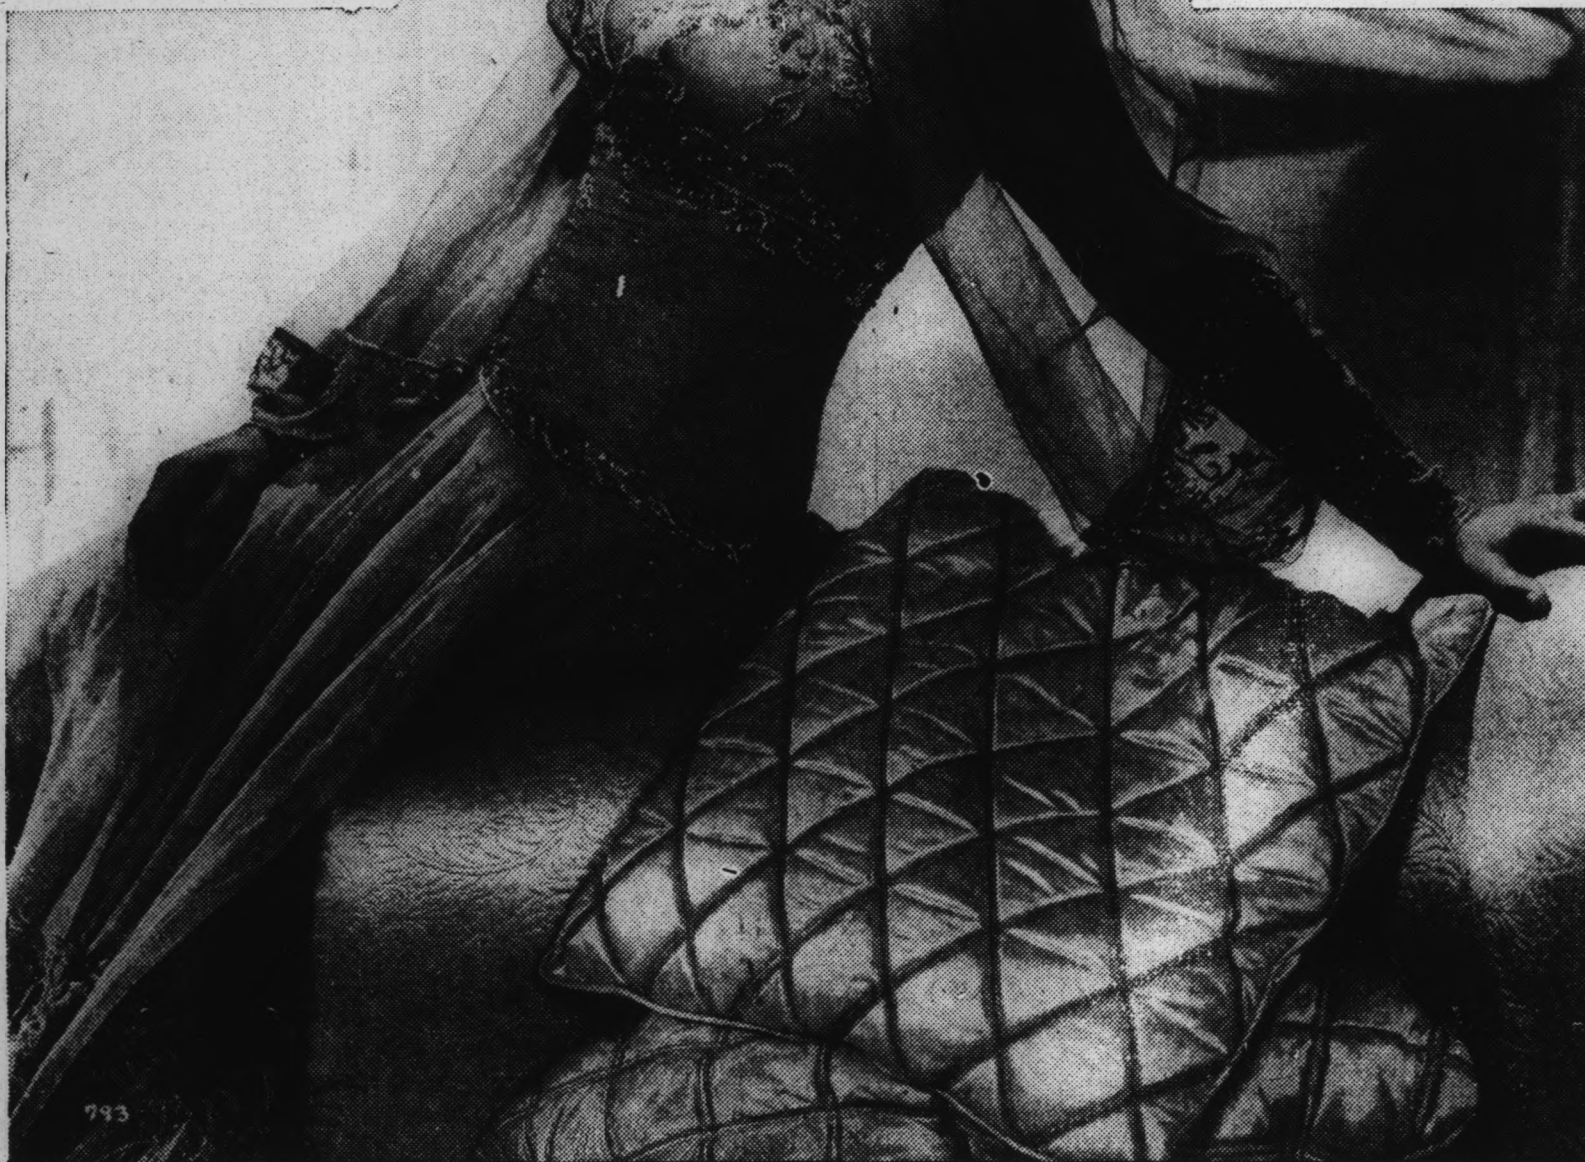

Children also have figured in the social activities! A delightful party was given in honor of Sheila Annetta Lyles' sixth birthday at home Thursday from four-thirty until seven o'clock. Twenty-one guests were entertained with various games, novelties and refreshments. A long table decorated with cut flowers adorned the spacious lawn and Mrs. Dorothy Davaul played appropriate piano selections. Little Sheila was the recipient of many lovely gifts. She is the daughter of Clarence M. Lyles and Mrs. Ida L. Lyles, the latter of whom was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Laura Oliver, her aunt, Mrs. Roxie Toliver, Mrs. Fannie Mae Wright and Mrs. Marie Cavannah. Guests were Lillian Coleman, Delores Taylor, Gene Taylor, Jimmy Denny, Gail Tanner, Lydia Battey, Steve Bowman, Nancy Bowman, Thomas Cork, Clarence Pemberton, Joan Clemmons, Patricia Free, and Marcia Freeman, Carol Ann and Howard Stevenson, Dolly McCook and Phyllis Winters. Congratulations Sheila and may you have many more happy birthdays!

It was awfully good to learn that Raymond (Dee) David, 324 W. 41 st., proprietor of Dee's Paradise Gardens, who has been critically ill since February, is able to be out and his many friends wish him a speedy and complete recovery. . . . Friends will also be glad to know that Mrs. Mary AngeDrfield Johnson, 870 W. 25th st., who underwent an operation is improving at home and friends may call to visit her. . . . Mrs. Grace Jones and baby have returned from Columbus, O., where she was guest of friends. Rev. and Mrs. Oscar Sanders of Muncie, parents of Mrs. Jones have the four other grandchildren with them. . . . Mrs. Hosea Chatman (Billie) and daughter, Miss Elsie, have returned from a pleasant vacation with Mr. Chatman's sister, Mrs. Cleo Jackson in Cleveland and friends in Detroit.

The Ernest Vaughns of South Bend were week-end guests of the Wm. Hudsons and John Houses in Fayette st. Mrs. Gussie Lewis returned with them to visit for a week at their home. . . . Mrs. Mattie F. Conn and daughter, Miss Callie Mae Conn of Lake Providence, La., are visiting their sons and brothers, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Conn, 1802 1/2 Boulevard pl., and Levi Conn. Miss Conn is a teacher in the public schools. Mrs. Anna Clark of Rockport and Mrs. Henrietta Thomas of Gary, who attended the district meeting of the Household of Ruth this week were pleasant callers at The Recorder offices. Also visiting the office were J. P. Robinson, supervisor of the 6th district and Supreme organizer of the Grand Order of Oddfel-

American War Mothers Hold Meeting

The Indianapolis chapter of American War Mothers held their regular meeting Friday evening at the Phyllis Wheatley YWCA with Mrs. Lillian Hall in charge. The meeting was full of inspiration and interest and was largely attended and plans were made for a beautiful garden party to be held at the home of the president, August 8. Mrs. Pearl Chambers is chairman of arrangements. A number of new war mothers were present and an interested group of local women to be known as magazine members are assisting the chapter in their work. All charter members and magazine members will appear in a later issue of The Recorder.

Leo McElroy Honored With Dinner Party

Mrs. Leo T. McElroy gave a dinner party last Wednesday in honor of her husband at the home of his mother, Mrs. Lillie McElroy Carter in N. Arsenal ave. Guests included: Father Bernard Strange and Father Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Vesper Anderson of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cavanaugh, Soha Rhodes, William Suber, Joseph McElroy, Eugene Carter, Misses Loretta and Elnora Rhodes, Dorothy Suber, Mary Joan McElroy, Master S. Rhodes Jr. and Fred Chandler. After dinner, a number of friends called and refreshments were served by his mother, Mr. McElroy reported at Ft. Harrison for service in the U. S. Army July 23.

Walker Cornetts Entertain With Reception Honoring Lt. and Mrs. J. D. Cornett

Mr. and Mrs. Walker Cornett entertained with a wedding reception Wednesday evening at home, 632 W. 29th st., in honor of Lt. and Mrs. James Dunean Cornett.

Mrs. Cornett was assisted by Mesdames Herbert C. Willis, Homer Carr, Guy Corley, Joel Overstreet, Walter Perkins, David Reynolds, Henry Fleming and the Misses Helen McDaniels and Clara Reese Kirk.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Morton Brooks of Knights-town and Mrs. Howard Settles of Muncie, parents and sister of the honoree, Mrs. Cornett. Lt. Cornett was commissioned at Camp Lee, Va., July 2.

Mrs. Irma Black Honor Guest of Twilight Shower

A lawn twilight shower was given July 20 for Mrs. Irma Black by Mrs. Odessa Skaggs at 925 N. Sheffield ave. Guests were received by Lillie Cunningham, who was attired in pink and refreshments were served by two other small girls dressed in white.

Mrs. Black received many lovely gifts. Guests were: Mesdames Bobbie Hanley, Hazel Woolridge, Dorothy H. White-side, Ina Debow, Lillian C. Hooks, Ruth Lloyd, Georgia Redd, Willie Church of Chicago, Frances Stewart, Edythe P. Ward, Kathryn Hibbitt and Miss Maudeline Bailey.

Recreation Hall Seeks Aid

The staff of the Recreation hall has dedicated itself to the task of improving and enlarging the recreation program for the new inductees at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indiana. Aside from entertaining a large number of visitors including mothers, fathers, and friends, the staff has the problem of creating and maintaining a well-rounded program of recreation for the soldiers.

To meet this obligation certain aid is needed: the facilities available are far from being adequate. The staff is making a plea to its citizens to help them in this endeavor.

Athletic equipment, such as horse-shoes, tennis balls and rackets, badminton sets, etc., and games, newspaper and magazine subscriptions would be greatly appreciated. We are appealing to any civic or social organization to make this patriotic contribution.

Anyone interested or willing to aid please contact or address mail to: Colored Recreation Hall, Reception Center, Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indiana.

BETTER Electric APPLIANCE CARE

DON'T WASTE ELECTRICITY
—EVEN THOUGH
I WORK FOR LOW PREWAR WAGES

Don't sacrifice the use of your Electric appliances through carelessness and neglect. Having to revert to slow, old-fashioned hand methods is certainly not helping to win this war. It's your patriotic duty to keep your Electric appliances in service by giving them the very best of care—then you'll continue to have time and energy for your war activities and complex household duties.

Keep your Electric appliances clean, but never put them in water. All motor driven appliances should be oiled and lubricated regularly according to manufacturer's instructions. Be careful and never let appliances drop. Cords with frayed or broken insulation should be repaired at once. Don't tinker with appliances unless you know what you're doing. At the first sign of trouble take to a reliable serviceman—for if you wait, it may be too late.

This Month's STAR RECIPE

By BETTY BARCLAY

Eliminate desserts because so many foods are rationed? By no means! Merely substitute new desserts for some that you can no longer have. You'll find many of these new desserts surprisingly pleasing.

Here's our prize dessert for the month. You have cereals on hand, apples are obtainable and you may well spare 1½ tablespoons of precious butter for a dessert that can be stretched into six helpings, if necessary:

Danish Apple Dessert
1½ tablespoons butter
2 cups Post's 40% Bran Flakes, finely crushed
2½ cups apple sauce

Melt butter in small skillet. Add bran flakes and heat over low flame until crisp and golden brown, stirring constantly. Place thin layer of apple sauce in shallow casserole or in individual dessert dishes or sherbet glasses. Add layer of bran flakes mixture; then add layer of apple sauce; repeat, finishing with layer of apple sauce. Serve immediately with plain or whipped cream. Serves 4 to 6.

A NEGRO THINKS ALOUD
BIOGRAPHY: Key L. Gillespie is the author of a number of poems and short stories. His best known are "His Last Battle" and "Macabre."

I don't resent the fact that I'm a Negro. Handicapped because I'm black. Or because some think my race should carry The burden of mental labor on its back

I don't resent the implications That I hear from time to time Simply because the chains of my fathers Were slave chains and not like mine.

I resent most forms of racial segregation Not because it hurts my pride. But because in many instances It is hatred trying to hide. I resent the kind of prejudice That forgets that we're all men And jealous of my color disregards me

Yet insults me when it can. I love the pages of Negro history And the great lessons they have taught— That even though a nation unchains a people Real freedom must be bought— By sacrifice and education While together they must gain. A greater knowledge of their problems So their sacrifice won't be in vain.

IN THE GROOVE

By Elizabeth Brisentine-Taft

Comes a letter from Cpl. Matthew J. Buckner, who's still in North Africa, but who is desperately homesick and who really hates it because he can't come home. We hate it too, Mack, and really, you must keep the chin up because we are all with you, hoping and praying every minute and day that you will soon be shaking hands with us and will then be able to tell us all those many interesting experiences which you think the C. E. won't allow you to write about.

From Cpl. Meredith (Billy) Stewart we hear that things aren't really what they are cracked up to be at Tuskegee, Ala., and from time to time Cpl. Stewart expects to keep us enlightened as to just what it is what! It was nice to know that he was among the 600 race men who were graduated from the Army Technical school for mechanics, the largest to graduate at one time in the states. . . . Also with this good news, it was nice shaking hands with Sgt. Frank Bradley at the deplorable Chicken Shack. Frank's home for fifteen days with his parents, the Frank Bradleys and his sister, Marilyn. He has also just been graduated from the Lincoln Aeronautical school at Lincoln, Nebraska, past June 8 and is now stationed at Tuskegee, Ala., along with Billy. . . . You "Summertime" fans will remember Billy Stewart and I expect some of you would even like to write him: 115th S.E.F.T.A.A.F., Tuskegee, Ala.

Heartfelt sympathies are expressed to Lt. Frank F. Brown and his parents at the passing of his uncle, Frank Fowler Brown. Lt. Brown and wife, Lois Porter Brown, came in Friday from Camp Seibert, Ala., to be at his bedside before he underwent an operation Saturday. . . . Good news to Beatrice Porter is that Sgt. Joseph Smith is home from Ft. Bragg, N. A. F. A. and of course he's now taking his share of producing victory on the home front at the Atkins Naval Ordnance Co. Good enough for him, and congratulations my dears because I know that the ding-a-ling bells will be ringing soon! All around me I hear those wedding bells aringing! . . .

Came a nice little pen scratchin' last week from LeRoy Dailey, who was at the time week-ending in that fine city of Columbus, Ohio. We really enjoyed reading this missive because every spot he mentioned we had no reason to doubt his word because it was strictly on the up and up. . . . I need to say, it's groovy-coovey! . . . He was accompanied by Tom Joyner and they were guests of Tom's very fine and congenial brother, Henry Joyner, himself, owner of the famous deluxe, de-everything, Club Belmont. They had reservations at the Hotel Litchford for a party. I can imagine it was a party LeRoy and of course it would take Jim (playboy) Turner to tell you all about Columbus, because he's a native from there! Good enough for you LeRoy, I wonder if you had your riding breeches with you? Surely, you'd take them if you can afford to wear them to Victory Field, you and Elwood Crane! Jim Turner asked me to ask you if you were planning to ride the teams in out there or had you really been riding at Carmel or nearabouts Tee Hee! . . .

Don Williams and Brad Porter, who are now listed with the bluejackets were also royally entertained at the Club Belmont by Henry Joyner. He is really tops when it comes to entertainment and most of all when it comes to entertainment and most of all when you are hometown folks! . . . Now that I've caught up with all my fan mail, it seems that Lem Alsop gets more fan mail than I. Only this a. m., (Tuesday) he received a brief and concise missive in which he was informed and now he knows that somebody else knows that he has bad feet! . . . Tsk! Tsk!! . . . Speaking of fan mail, mustn't leave out the Square's interesting account of the hurricane tragedy at Lake Wawasee! . . . 'Tis a shame that the most beautiful and largest trees on the lawn of South Shore Inn were uprooted! Can't quite imagine the place without them now, but things are back on the beam again and the spots and merry-makings seem groovier as ever under the new management of one Jap Jones, owner of several hotels including the Spencer House this city!

Here's a letter which we think deserves publishing! In The Groove Editor: Hello, homefolks: We fellows thought we'd drop a line to the Recorder. Very few of them come to us but as we read them, we notice there is still some life in Naptown. Just as a favor we would like for you to get Warrant Officer James M. Johnson's address for us. He is an ole buddy of ours in the good C. C. C. days Your column is our favorite on the boys in the service. Hoping to receive a reply. Tell Naptown folks hello for us. Signed, Sgt. Edward C. Harrell, Sgt. Gatewood Sanders, Pvt. Eugene Russell and Staff Sgt. Marshall B. Jones and I imagine these fellows would enjoy mail, so here's the address, 931st A. B. S. Bn. Langley Field, Va. The boys say, "in the groove", yes indeed!

Also comes a letter from New Guinea! "Good enough for me! It's from Pvt. Gerald E. Webb son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Webb senior and he writes that quite a few hometown boys there namely Cpl. John Richey, Cpl. John Hazel, Cpl. Buster McDonald, Cpl. Emmett E. Marshall and others and all are doing what very high ranking army officials call "a darn swell job." They were witnesses to the island's largest air raid, April 12 and our paper carried a front page story on this particular raid. Pvt. Webb has a hometown pal, Wm. Richardson, (Henrietta's brother) who is stationed somewhere in England who has been promoted to the rank of first looney! Pvt. Webb also has two brothers who are doing splendid. One is commanding officer of an all-colored company at Ft. Benning, Ga., and Pvt. Webb says he writes that he's in line for promotion to Captain. Good enough for him! The younger brother, is a corporal in an all-colored fighter squadron! I think we should give these boys a hand and a big swell wish for all of them, especially since they are hometown boys. Some of them I don't know, but it's always groovy with me to receive their letters and hear them praise the paper and the column and the space is their's only for the asking! If we can't write letters at least we can make mail call mean something when they get the dear ole Recorder and find their names listed somewhere in its files!

WILLS Praised FOR FINE WORK AT WAWASEE

Luther Wills, 38, 27 South Cathedralwood, employed as houseman and chauffeur for five years by William D. Vogel, 3760 East St. Clair, was one of the heroes who worked so untiringly and effectively in the search for the drowning victims of the hurricane which struck the Wawasee region last week.

Mr. Wills was granted the use of Mr. Vogel's boat and worked all night on the lake, finding one of the bodies and being largely instrumental in helping find another. Mr. Wills, who has spent several months at Wawasee in recent years in the employ of Mr. Vogel, knows the lake well and his aid was important.

A 32d degree Mason, Mr. Wills is married and has a stepson Edgar in the Navy.

"Luther Wills is one of the best fellows I know," Mr. Vogel said. "He is a fine man, clean as a whistle, a credit to himself and to those around him. He did a great job at Wawasee and deserves much credit for his efforts."

representatives of the American newspaper publishers and with American newsprint manufacturers.

Increased costs of wood procurement in both the United States and Canada are the fundamental factors necessitating this increase in ceiling prices, today's joint announcement said.

"A number of newsprint mills in both the U. S. and Canada are operating at a loss," said Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown. "It cannot be hoped to adjust the price to a point where each individual mill becomes profitable, but this Office is charged with the duty of adjusting prices, upward or downward, as will be generally fair and equitable. It is felt, therefore, that this order raises the price to the minimum extent required by the Emergency Price Control Act."

To meet these increased costs, Canadian producers asked for an increase of $6 per ton, while United States producers asked for an increase of $5 to $6 per ton. These requests for increases from the then current levels were received in May and June.

In granting an increase of $1 per ton, Mr. Brown said that an increase of more than this amount could not be justified.

These conversations indicated that today's increase is necessary in order to insure continued production of newsprint requirements of the United States.

This is the second increase in newsprint prices since 1938. An increase of $4.00 per ton was granted March 1, 1943. At that time Canadian producers asked for an increase of $8.00 per ton. In then granting an increase of $4.00 per ton Price Administrator Brown told the Canadian War-time Prices and Trade Board that the door would be left open for further consideration of the price situation at a later date.

AFRICA IDEAL FOR PIONEERS AND BUILDERS

WASHINGTON, July 30. (ANP)

A spokesman for the Fighting French delegation in the United States discussed possibilities for national development in Africa after the war with the Associated Negro Press last week, and declared that in his opinion the Dark Continent is the logical place for Negroes with the pioneering spirit to do something about it.

He is Maj. Maurice Retival, military attaché for the delegation, which represents the De Gaulist faction among exiled Frenchmen. The subject of the conversation was self-government for French Colonials, but the major injected this thought of what he would do if he were a Negro architect, engineer or other technically trained person.

"There is little or no room now for pioneering in America or in Europe," he asserted. "In Africa, however, there are cities to be founded, roads to be built, bridges and dams. There is need for skilled people there."

He considered that the climate of Africa is less suitable to Europeans than it is to Negroes. But more important, he believes that Africa is the lone place left for the type of development that an advanced civilization could bring about.

The French, he said, have built schools in the colonies and will build more. This is a long process but necessary both for self-government and for natural development, he added. As matters stand, there is a measure of self-government in African colonies where they have community councils, and in the islands of the West Indies where citizens are said to have the vote.

Maj. Retival pointed out that there is no inequality among Frenchmen. The only people under the French flag who are not citizens are the Arabs of North Africa, and the reason for this is that they are unwilling to relinquish polygamy.

He cited the fact that Felix Eboué, a Negro, is governor of French Equatorial Africa, an area almost as large as that portion of the United States that lies east of the Mississippi.

The French, he added, do not think in terms of color.

JAMES PORTER NEELEY

Final rites for James Porter Neeley, age 49, who died at his home 531 West Vermont street July 21, were conducted at the chapel of the Peoples funeral home Sunday, July 26.

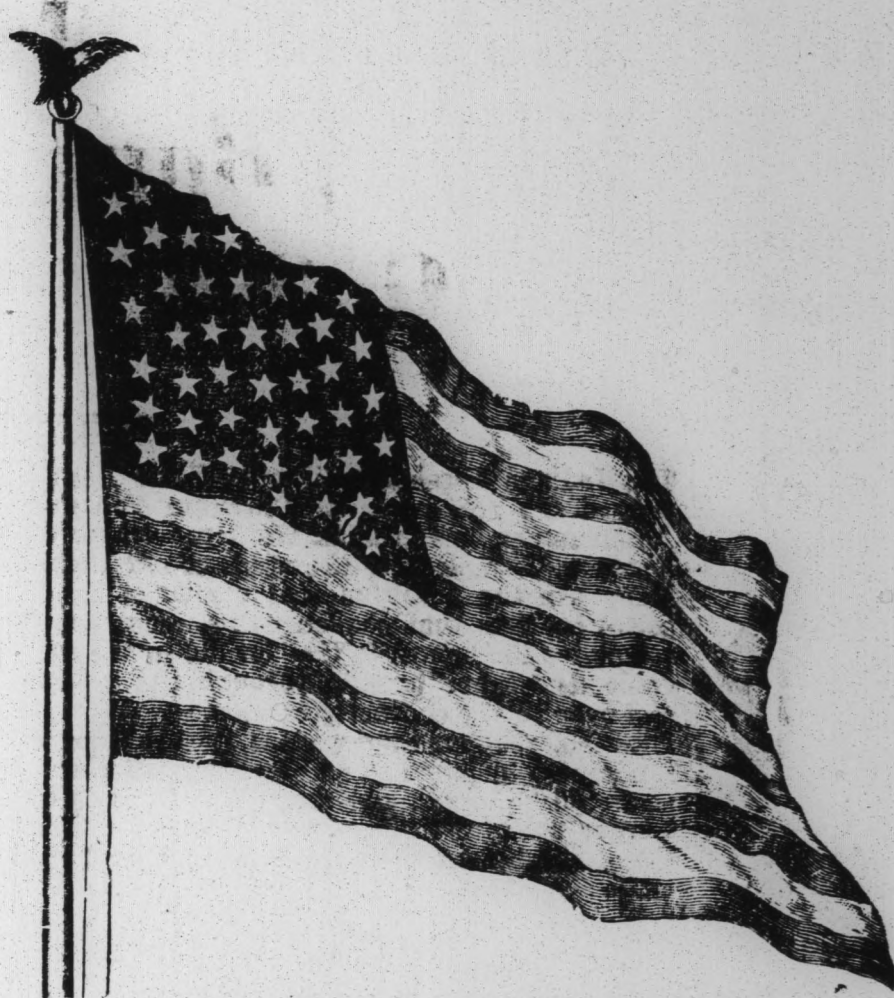

Rev. R. T. Andrews officiated. Burial was in New Crown. The deceased is survived by four sisters, Mrs. Phoebe Alexander, Mrs. Lovie Johnson, Mrs. Lillian Lasley, Mrs. Mary Watkins; one brother, J. Edgar Neeley, Chicago; two uncles, two aunts, four cousins and fourteen nephews.

86TH ANNUAL SESSION

Ind. Missionary Baptist State Convention and Its Auxiliaries

In Session AUG. 3-8 — First Baptist Church, North Indpls.

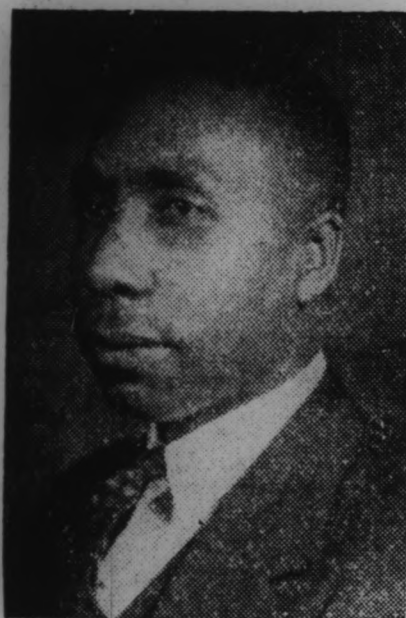

REV. F. F. YOUNG, PASTOR

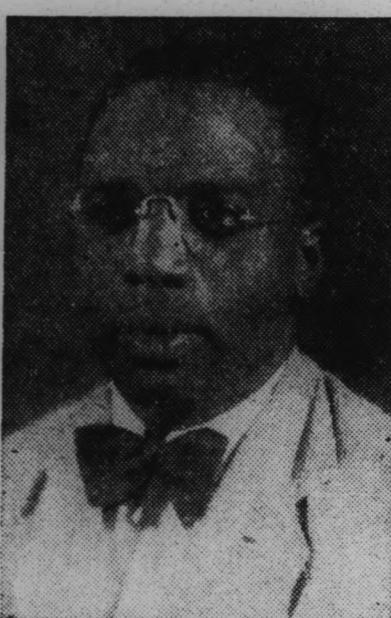

The Indiana Missionary Baptist State Association, extends the Hand of Fellowship, to those of our own Denomination, and to those of every Faith and Creed, who are at work toward the realization of Christian Fellowship and goodwill. As Ministers, as Christian Workers who make up our great Convention, representative as we are of over 30,000 men and women, of Indiana, many and varied are our responsibilities. Many and complex are the needs of our people, these needs must be met and discharged under the social Doctrines of Jesus Christ. These problems must be faced and the Church must meet them. No spiritual or social problem that challenges us, must not fail to receive the return to God for aid in the solution of many of our problems. Historians will testify that every generation passes through a crisis. An outstanding writer contends we are passing through the greatest revolution, (induced by war) in the history of humanity. This revolution is taking place in politics, in the field of science, and even in the character of men.

Even so, religion cannot close its eyes nor divorce itself from the stark realities with which men are wrestling. No intelligent man can close his eyes to war, poverty, to ignorance, to mental and physical suffering. Neither can he ignore the crimes, the increase divorce rate, nor the increase in social and industrial unrest about him. To do so would be stupid and cowardly. Then, too, it would be out of harmony with God and the attitude of Jesus Christ. Larger fields of service are awaiting the Church and Church Leaders of Indiana. It shall be the purpose of the Moderator to point these out, as your challenge. Our Churches and our Association have had unparalleled growth, and to those of you who have labored to make these accomplishments possible, I SALUTE YOU. . . .

GARY MCGEES HAVE 3 OFFICERS; WAC CANDIDATE

White Youth Saves Drowning Richmondite

Robert Baker, shown in trunks, saved the life of Edgar Williams, Jr., Negro, who almost drowned July 21 in the Whitewater river.

Just north of Doran bridge, Sam Goodson, shown back of the Williams boy, helped Baker administer artificial respiration until police officers arrived. Officers Frank Hickman and John Rizio are pictured in the group.

Flyer, Chaplain,

Signal Corps, WAC-- Girl Seeks Bars, Too

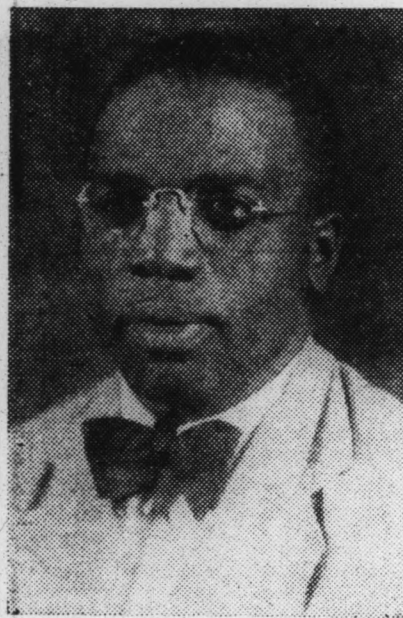

GARY, July 30.—"Every McGee an Officer," appears to be the guiding thought of the family of Lewis A. McGee, former pastor of the First A. M. E. church, 20th and Massachusetts, who is stationed at Camp Swift, Texas, as chaplain. He is a first lieutenant.

A recent graduate, the chaplain's son is a second lieutenant, having received preliminary training at Tuskegee and his commission June 30. Lt. Charles McGee, 23, the first colored youth of Gary to win his wings, was granted a brief leave before reporting to Selfridge Field, Mich. He will pilot a P-40 fighter, of the type now being used by earlier graduates of Tuskegee flying school, who now are covering themselves with glory in the tremendous drive from North African bases into Axis-held Sicily and Italy.

There is still another lieutenant in the Gary McGee family—Second lieutenant Lewis A. McGee, Jr., 26, who is with the Signal Corps in the South Pacific. There may be another officer in the family, for the girl, Aux. Ruth McGee Parker, 22, assigned with the WAC contingent at Fort Custer, Mich., has applied for officer training and hopes soon to enter officer candidates training school in order that the father and brothers can be proud of another officer in the clan.

The McGees hold some kind of record not only for their loyalty and service but on the number of officers and officer candidates in the family; certainly they hold the admiration and sincere wishes of all Indiana citizens. The record of this outstanding family is indisputable evidence of the contribution colored persons are making in this war and should prove highly

PASTOR'S SIXTH ANNIVERSARY

REV. G. H. BURRUS

The sixth anniversary of Rev. G. H. Burrus, pastor of First Baptist Church of Noblesville, Indiana, will be observed Sunday, Aug. 1, at 3 p. m. Rev. C. I. Dailey, moderator of Central District, Indianapolis, will be the speaker.

CITY, GARY MEN AT GREAT LAKES

GREAT LAKES, Ill., July 24.—Fourteen Indiana men recently reported to the U. S. Naval Training Station here to begin a period of recruit training.

Recruit training consists of military drill, seamanship, naval procedure, and indoctrination into Navy life. During this period, these men will participate in the Navy's strenuous physical hardening program to make them fit for the many rigorous duties awaiting them when later assigned to duty at sea or some naval shore station.

Soon, these men will be given a series of aptitude tests to determine whether they will receive advanced specialized training at one of the Navy's Service Schools. Some of the men, having had sufficient experience in any one of the trades used by the Navy, will be given petty officer ratings upon completion of their recruit training. Men enrolled in Service School are eligible for petty officer ratings upon successful completion of their courses.

The new recruits from the State of Indiana are:

William Junior Turner, 17, 2233 Martindale avenue, Anderson; Walter A. Ferguson, 18, 608 South Mill street, Fairmont; Bennie Ferguson, Jr., 18, 1526 Madison street, Leavenworth; Harold Joseph Wallace, 18, 2674 Polk street; Raleigh G. Yancy, 18, 2269 Washington street, and Louis Allen Ross, 23, 2245 Adams street, all six are from Gary; Leroy Harry Shepard, 23, 2028 Ralston street, Arthur Eugene Porter, 18, 1712 E. 27th street; Anthony Maxwell Miller, 27, 2451 Sheldon street; Clarence Calvin Groves, 25, 2146 Bellefontaine street, and Hayden R. Curd, 17, 2322 Caroline, the above five men are all from Indianapolis; Charles Wayne Mitchell, 17, 1410 Rusley street, Muncie, and Joseph Eugene Wells, 18, 1525 South Sixteenth street, Terre Haute.

Nip Sub Here Friday on Circle

U. S. Navy Official Photograph. This picture shows a close-up of the catwalks that were specially constructed so bond buyers and children war stamp purchasers can view the interior of the two-man suicide Jap submarine captured at Pearl Harbor. Spectators can look through glasses placed in the side of the hull and see and hear explained every detail of the suicide submersible. War bonds are now being sold and tickets distributed with sales for appearance of the sub in Indianapolis, July 30, at Monument Circle. The submarine is complete in every detail even to the dummy figures of the two Japanese navy crewmen, one an officer, the other a seaman, which are dressed in actual uniforms of the original operators were.

NINE HOOSIERS ARE NAVY GRADS

GREAT LAKES, Ill., July 20.—Nine Indiana, Negro Bluejackets were graduated today from the Service Schools at the U. S. Naval Training Station here. They now await assignment to active duty at sea, or at some naval shore station.

Selected for this advanced training on the basis of a series of aptitude tests given them while in recruit training, they have undergone weeks of intensive study in the trade they were selected for. Some of the graduates were advanced to petty officer rating at time of graduation, while the others were graduated as seamen and will have an opportunity to obtain their ratings soon after reporting to their new assignments.

The graduates from Indiana, the schools they attended, and the men who are now petty officers, are: William H. Morton, 20, 4154 Fourth street, Columbus, graduated from Gunner's Mate School; Vesta J. Box, 20, 4805 McCook avenue, promoted to Radioman, third class, and Eddie Parris, 18, 3922 Alexander avenue, promoted to Quartermaster, third class, both are from East Chicago; James R. Stevenson, 20, 2545 Polk street, and Eugene Grass, 19, 2617 Washington street, both are from Gary, and both graduated from Gunner's Mate School; John L. Outlaw, 19, 1077 West 27th street, promoted to Quartermaster, third class; Earl L. Browder, 21, 2350 N. Wheeler street, and Robert Miller, 18, 1524 Douglas street, both graduated from Signalman School, all three are from Indianapolis; and Lewis F. Blanton, Jr., 19, 1213 East Miner street, graduated from Quartermaster School, and formerly from South Bend.

PROVIDENT HAS U. S. NURSE PLAN

CHICAGO, July 30. (ANP) —Provident hospital here, one of the foremost institutions of its kind, is one of the first hospitals to make application to join the United States Cadet Nurse corps. Miss B. O. A. Overton, superintendent of nurses at Provident, is planning to greatly increase the number of student nurses to be enrolled next year, the government aid which is being extended to trainees making it possible for many talented girls who desire training as nurses to gratify that ambition.

The Bolton bill, introduced by Congressman Frances P. Bolton of Cleveland has been signed by President Roosevelt and is now a law. Under the provisions of the measure $45,000,000 is set aside to aid nursing schools and hospitals for the next months in greatly expanding their services so as to train a much larger number of nurses than are now available. Additional funds will be made available later.

There is an acute shortage of nurses. This has been felt even in the Negro field even though comparatively few colored have gone to war, only 160 to be exact. Various public health services, the WACs and governmental opportunities have been absorbing the nurses while hospitals everywhere are running to near capacity. Provident hospital here is enjoying the greatest use by pay patients in its entire history, and the demand for Provident trained nurses continues unabated, Miss Overton said.

Robert Baker, 16 years old, 813 North Eighth street, plunged into the Whitewater river north of the Doran bridge, to rescue Edgar Williams, Jr., who had decided to take a swim before continuing his trip home at 732 North Fifteenth street to the courthouse where he was to seek employment.

Baker, who was along the river, noticed the lad struggling to save himself. He plunged into the Whitewater and pulled the youth to the bank. There Sam Goodson, 422 North Third street, helped administer artificial respiration, and the boy soon responded to their treatment.

Officers Hickman and Lew Daniels took the colored lad to his home and a physician was called. Officer Hickman said the boy appeared "sleepy" and had a severe headache.

BUILDER LAUDS GREAT RECORD SET BY WORKERS

A New York shipyard owner was the possessor this week of letters from President Roosevelt and Paul V. McNutt, chairman of the War Manpower Commission, commending him for eliminating racial barriers in his shipyard.

The shipbuilder is William Edgar John, owner and general manager of the Milton Point Shipyards at Rye, N. Y. His plant, formerly a small yard for the construction of pleasure boats, recently celebrated its 30th launching of war vessels for the War and Navy Departments.

In the pleasure boat days, the Milton Point Shipyards had never hired a Negro worker. Soon after the firm received its first defense contract, however, a Negro applied for a job and was turned away. The rejected worker wrote President Roosevelt, and the Chief Executive, in turn, wrote Mr. John explaining the Government's policy of "full participation in the defense program by all persons, regardless of race, creed, color or national origin."

Mr. John had only 75 workers in his yard when he received the President's advice. Needing a crew of caulkers, he went to a Harlem River shipyard and signed up 25 Negro craftsmen. He regarded his experiment as a success when his yard, aided by the Negro caulkers, finished his first Navy contract 28 days ahead of schedule.

"I not only found out that they were good workers," Mr. John stated, "but that they are the most honest, square-shooting, loyal bunch of Americans you'd ever want to meet."

"Why, when we've had rush contracts, every one of my colored workers volunteered to work 12 hours a day, 7 days a week. They all gave three hours pay to the Red Cross. They all buy bonds. They're expert workers and gentlemen."

Mr. John was so pleased at the outcome that he continued to increase the number of Negro workers in his yard. Today, 88 Negroes—one-fifth of his total staff—are working in all skills in the Milton Point Shipyards. A few weeks ago, the owner decided to tell the President about it. And Mr. Roosevelt promptly replied:

"My dear Mr. John: At a time when I have been hearing so many tragic things about racial tensions and racial violence on the home front, your letter came as an evidence of what I know is the basic goodwill to work and decency of the American people with regard to their fellow citizens of other races.

BIND HAUTE MAN TO GRAND JURY

TERRE HAUTE, July 30.—Cecil Whitty, 32, 1908 Ash, was bound to grand jury on a charge of first-degree murder last week. The woman was found on the floor of her kitchen in a pool of blood, a shotgun wound in her back, Whitty was arrested at the home of relatives and police say that he appeared intoxicated and was suffering from knife wounds on his arms and face.

The $64 Question: What's the Answer?

"I hope many Americans will read the story of your achievement in industrial democracy. It should be especially heartening to them at this time when in the many cases hoodlum violence has interrupted our production for victory at home and given comfort to our enemies abroad."

"Thank you for sending me the story, but thank you even more for your fine example for all of us today. I am happy if, as you say, I had a part in turning your mind to the task in human relationships which you have accomplished so well."

And on July 12, Mr. McNutt wrote him:

Dear Bill John: Our mutual friend, George Sutton, sent me a newspaper clipping concerning you and your shipyard's policy on race discrimination.

"The story had escaped my attention and I am deeply grateful to George for sending it to me. Had I not seen it I would have missed this opportunity to express to you my very great appreciation of the job you are doing."

"The war we are fighting is more than just a matter of guns, tanks and planes. It reaches far back to the fighting line, a war of minds rather than merely materials. We could win the one and lose the other and in the end we would find that we had lost both. By proving, as you and your workers have done, that men of all races and creeds can work as well as fight together you have gained, for all of us, an important battle. In the final analysis we may discover that your victory had as important result as those in Africa, in Guadalcanal, Iwo Jima, the first front, the front on which the battle for democracy will be won or lost, regardless of victories on the battlefields."

And out at the Milton Point Shipyards, Mr. John's workers, Negro and white, continue to buy bonds, make Red Cross contributions—and build ships.

U. S. TO CONVERT PARKWAY CENTER INTO WAR HOMES

into 17 dwelling units for war workers under the government lease-conversion program. After the war, owners may have their properties back if so desired.

The conversion will provide five one-room units, seven two-room units, four three-room units, and one four-room unit with rentals ranging from $30 to $47.50 per month. Horace Cayton is director of the center.

CLASSIFICATION BOARD—Two white Army officers and three Negro educators compose the board at the Army Specialized Training Unit at A. and T. College, Greensboro, N. C., where qualified soldiers are classified for college training, to fit them for specialized Army jobs. They are, left to right: Professor H. R. Arnette of Tacoma, Washington, head of the Department of Psychology and Education at A. and T.; Second Lieutenant Samuel C. Evans of Paducah, Kentucky; Captain William Sonnier, Rayne, Louisiana; Dean Warmoth T. Bibbs, Dean of A. and T. College and educational advisor to the Board, and Dean J. M. Martenna, for 13 years, Dean of the School of Engineering at A. and T. The cadet being interviewed has his back to the camera.

MARION BETHEL MODERN CHURCH

MARION, July 30.—Bethel A. M. E. Church of Marion, Ind., now ranks among the best and the most modern churches in the Indiana Conference. The church is now being completed and is to be finished at least by the last of August.

The new auditorium is being completed under the pastorate of Dr. H. L. P. Jones, who is a master financier in church affairs. Mr. J. Rhinehardt of Marion is the chief supervisor.

The following men compose the board of trustees who with Dr. Jones have planned wisely and successfully the building for the new church:

Albert Hawkins, Claude Watkins, Treasurer Robert Hawkins, Secretary Grant Shearer, Edward Tandy and Harley P. Burden, Sr.

Bethel's "Omega" rally June 6, netted cash of $1300. The building will be valued at $37,000. The Bishop will doubtless place a bright star in Dr. H. L. P. Jones' crown.

The church indebtedness for building is less than $4,000. The following ministers and churches contributed to the rally in June, Rev. Dr. Alexander of Greater Bethel, Indianapolis; Rev. S. D. Hardrick of St. Paul, Indianapolis; Rev. W. D. Shannon of Bethel, Richmond; Rev. H. D. Saunders of Bethel, Muncie, and Rev. Franklin Jones of Shaffer Chapel, Muncie.

BAPTISTS MEET AT EVANSVILLE

EVANSVILLE, July 30 — With the Little Hope Baptist church congregation as host, the 29th annual session of the Mt. Olive Missionary Baptist State Association met here Monday through Friday, last week. The Sunday School, B. Y. P. U. and the Women's Division had prominent roles in the sessions.

Speakers included Rev. J. B. Duncan, Miss Barbara Jean Dixon, Rev. C. W. Saunders, Rev. Frank East, Miss L. Watkins, Miss E. Robinson, Rev. W. A. Black, Rev. H. C. Curlin, Rev. W. E. Clark.

Other participants were Mrs. C. W. Saunders, Rev. F. Johnson, Mrs. Edna Isom, Rev. M. D. Banks, Rev. W. M. Harris, Rev. J. D. Garrett.

WARN CANNERS USING POWDER OF DANGERS

Home canners were warned today by the U. S. Department of Agriculture against the use of "canning powders" and other chemical preservatives. The warning was based upon a statement from W. G. Campbell, commissioner of the Federal Food and Drug Administration, who said that use of some of the "canning powders" constituted a definite health hazard.

With millions of housewives canning food this year for the first time, Dr. E. C. Auchter, administrator of the Agricultural Research Administration, asked Mr. Campbell for an opinion on the use of chemicals in home canning. Dr. Auchter called attention to a paragraph in a Department publication on canning which reads as follows: "The use of chemical preservatives, such as salicylic acid, sodium benzoate, and 'canning powders' should be avoided in home canning of any kind of food. These chemicals vary in their effects on the human body, some being more harmful than others. Therefore the safe way for the home canner is to process food adequately with heat and not use chemical preservatives."

Sterilize by Heat, Not by Preservatives

In his reply Mr. Campbell said "I am fully in agreement with the advice given in this paragraph. Practically all the substances proposed in the past as chemical preservatives have limited value as such and in view of the known harmful effects of some of them they should not be used as substitutes for the more efficacious and safer processes of sterilization by heat."

"We do not believe that the present war emergency offers any valid reason for condoning the use of chemical preservatives by home canners in place of tested and approved processes of heat sterilization."

The term "canning powders," Mr. Campbell said, include boric acid and its compounds and substances like metabisulfite which yield sulfur dioxide when brought in contact with an acid-reacting food product. Boric acid and its compounds are toxic. Sulfites and sulfur dioxide destroy vitamin B-1 rapidly and completely. For this reason alone the use of sulfites in home-canned foods should be avoided.

It is true, he explained, that sulfur dioxide is used in a limited number of products, notably in dried fruits to prevent their darkening. With such limited usage the probability of heavy individual consumption of sulfur dioxide in the diet is slight. But with general employment, by home canners, of this preservative, there are prospects that entire households would consume sufficient quantities of the preservative to create cumulative effects and serious vitamin B-1 deficiencies.

He said also that chemical preservatives, besides being a health hazard, are unsatisfactory substitutes for heat treatment. All the chemicals named, including benzoate of soda, are of doubtful efficacy under the conditions likely to retard the growth of certain groups of organisms but are ineffective against others. Experiments have shown that some of the chemicals will not prevent the production of the deadly toxin of the botulism germ.

Use of Chemicals Invites Carelessness

This fact is of particular importance since experience has shown that the household use of chemical preservatives frequently leads to carelessness and neglect of the usual sanitary precautions and attempts to utilize unfit raw material. There is a tendency to place undue confidence in the effectiveness of such preservatives. "Fatalities from improperly prepared home-canned foods occur entirely too frequently," Mr. Campbell said emphatically. For safety's sake rely on thorough heat sterilization.

FIND KY. WOMAN DEAD IN FIELD

MORGANFIELD, Ky., July 30.—A body identified as Mrs. Canary Chapman, 43, wife of L. C. Chapman of Madisonville, was found by "Cherley Davis in a field on the Davis Brothers farm here. The coroner said the woman's head lay in a pool of blood and that she had been hit on the forehead three times, apparently with the butt of a pistol, and had been shot twice. A bullet found a few inches in the ground under the body indicated that she had been shot in the temple after she had been felled by the first wound in the temple. A man's tracks were found near the body.

A woman in the neighborhood said that while attending her children about 1 a. m., she saw a car drive into the field and later saw it leave. FBI and Camp Breckenridge officials were called into the case.

The woman was last seen on a street in Morganfield. The widow said that his wife had planned a trip to Louisville.

A HOUSING APPEAL TO THE MAYOR

Post-war planning for the City of Indianapolis in an honest and practical scope of operation must include a remedy for several forgotten areas on ill-housing. One of these areas is the section bounded on the East by Capitol avenue and extending from Fall Creek south to New York street. Another area is bounded on the West by Cornell avenue and extends from Thirtieth street on the North, South to Twelfth street.

The Indiana State House and the State Library are near to the first area. Several hospitals including the City Hospital and two units, schools, of Indiana University and a city high school are located in the area. Four or more national highways converge in the territory or intersect it. And the population per square mile is reported as the second most dense in the state.

The second area affords a city park, several appreciable churches, the second largest grade school in the city, other schools and some modest and valuable homes, interspersed over a community with reflections of civic abandonment. In this area particularly, landlords have made little or no improvement on property over the years. Rents are unduly high in keeping with assessed valuation of property and in comparison with rent schedules in areas of desirable housing. Other sections of the city are contributing to the blight of civic virtue, yet particular stress is placed on social evils developing in these communities. This has been done with out due regards for the contribution of ill-housing and attendant evils to delinquency and anti-social presentiments. The needs for more housing of a better type have been neglected in our community for more than two decades, to a larger extent than in comparable urban centers. Private enterprise, it appears, is not equal to, or unwilling to enter into the matter up to this time.

The Mayor of the city, Gen. Robert H. Tyndall and the proper authorities otherwise might make a real contribution to the civic betterment of our city in seeking federal government funds to rebuild slum area houses. Pending in the U. S. House, H. B.-1136 will make available to cities over the nation $100,000,000 for the improvement of municipal housing. If such funds should become available several methods might be followed in a program of supplanting ill-housing in this community.

The principal idea entertained in several major cities over the nation, regarding the acquisition and use of U. S. funds might be examined fully by the City of Indianapolis. Federal funds if available hereafter under pending Congressional action would be used to buy houses in the slum areas. These houses would be torn down in all instances. According to established city planning programs, new houses would be erected immediately on some sites. In other areas or instances the land would be sold to private enterprise for development in the local rehabilitation program. While the proceeds of such sales would be available for the development of new home areas, all other conditions conforming to this end.

In the local program of post-war planning, Mayor Tyndall, our City Planning Commission and other related agencies could afford wisely to take consideration of this plan or idea, in sincere efforts at relieving the ill-housing situation. Such plans afford a measure of relief from the present housing situation at an early date. Again the plan makes it possible for joint action of private enterprise, community leaders and local government in civic improvement. Citizens of these communities should anticipate an answer from the Mayor on this matter.

A POLITICAL ISSUE OF THE SOUTHLAND

Conditions or methods under which race prejudices are increased or extended in the South, overflowing into all sections of the nation are revealed in the campaign of Mike Conner for governor of Mississippi. Mr. Conner an ex-governor of the state is seeking to return to the governor's chair. The principal issue of his platform "white supremacy" never fails in his corner of our civilization. In this instance the platform includes a pledge that all Negro people must "work or fight," presumably men and women.

Mr. Conner lets the "cat out of the bag" in his campaign speeches. He says, "theorists in Washington with a Communistic trend are trying to FORCE POLITICAL EQUALITY of the Negro and white races. Political equality would lead to social equality and we white people must convince Washington that we will not stand for it; that Mississippi is white, not red, not black and by the eternal we propose to keep it white."

Supporting the white supremacy of Mr. Conner, a business man says the foundation for racial trouble has been laid in Mississippi by:

1. Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.
2. New Deal Communists and Socialists.
3. Labor Unions' programs of social equality, especially CIO.
4. High wages being paid by government agencies and contractors with government contracts outbidding local business, etc.

The ex-governor of Mississippi and his comrades have revealed the real significance of "white supremacy" and its kindred spiritual liabilities in the Southland. The Bourbon South has thrived and survived on the spirit of pre-Civil War days. Therefore in various circumstances the spirit of preserving conditional slave instrumentalities is perpetuated. "States Rights" extend this mockery of the world's greatest document on human rights and justice, the Constitution of the U. S. A.

"Political equality" is Communistic Mr. Conner and his supporters agree apparently. They have perpetuated a mockery of the U. S. Constitution in the name of "States Rights," which in its scope has produced the most damaging specter in our democracy. In the name of "States Rights" the several Southern States have nullified every phase of the U. S. Constitution promoting and protecting human rights. Since the Civil War and in this manner the South has fostered upon the nation three generations of largely backward and unfortunate peoples, including more anti-social white people than Negro people.

These unfortunate white people are the essence or vic-times of "white supremacy" in the Southland. They have been intruded into a form of mental or spiritual intoxication by their overlords, as a kind of reward for their misery and despair as men and women. Over the long road that eventually turns a few are recovering from this mental drunkenness. They are discovering slowly that all underprivileged and by underpaid workers or any race or creed are in "the same boat." (Mr. Conner and those of his persuasion, call this discovery Labor Unions' social equality or socialist and Communist theories). The champions of the spirit of the era of human bondage seeing signs of losing their control of things are determined to hold their ground at any costs.

Thus it is said in Mississippi that, the wise and honest wife of the President of the United States in proclaiming the "Four Freedoms" for all citizens, or common rights under the Constitution of the U. S. A. has laid the foundation for strife in Mississippi. The people of the Southland should say with equally as much logic or justification that—"Love thy neighbor as thyself," if proclaimed in the Southland will disrupt that area.

Again the New Deal in reviving "Jeffersonian Democracy" has projected the protection and promotion of human rights as an essential measure in perpetuating our democracy. In the days of Jefferson, his followers, or those of such views or opinions were branded as "Red Jacobin" after the French Revolutionary leaders. Today many sane or honest views or opinions were branded as "Red Jacobins" after the French for all citizens of the nation are styled as socialism or Communism. Over the nation the people in the streets should beware of the individuals bearing such testimony.

Labor Unions' programs of social equality in Mississippi, mean that white and Negro workers have joined ranks to defeat the powers or influences propelling the spirit or fact of the Southland's serfdom. Strife has followed only as disunity has been promoted among workers by outside influences or enemies of democratic labor movements. High wages (better wages) paid on government contracts or by government agencies in recent years, in the South have allowed a few Negro workers to abandon the role of conditional slave instrumentalities. Generally Negro workers have worked at any job available at any price offered. They have some choice jobs and prices today for several reasons. Therefore "white supremacy" based on the exploitation of conditional slave instrumentalities is threatened and the foundation for strife has been laid in Mississippi.

These are issues in the governor's campaign in an American state in the 20th century. All the world is watching the American scene, U. S. A. as the pacemaker in democracy or processes of practical justice among men over the earth. And it follows that Charity begins at home. But the vigilant champions in the Southland of "white supremacy" are sowing the seeds of the dragon to the four winds and more than eight hundred million peoples of the so-called darker races of the world. There shall be a harvest season in the small world of tomorrow. Astute political prophets over the earth and sane and honest observers at home are equally sure that our house of democracy must be put in order, if the house is to survive. But the next governor of Mississippi, in his wisdom, implies that the house shall not be moved. The Holy Writ says, "An if a house be divided against itself, that house cannot stand." (Mark 3:25.) "And if Satan rise up against himself, and be divided, he cannot stand, BUT HATH AND END." (Mark 3:26.)

CARTER CALLS FOR RENOVATION OF BUSINESS PLACES; HORDES WILL BE JOBLESS; WITHOUT AID

Seventh Avenue in the City of New York is a great arterial highway linking aristocratic Westchester County with Manhattan. Each morning hundreds of automobiles bearing the leaders of society, of finance and of commerce of the metropolis roll swiftly down its length to 110th street, the entrance to Central Park. Each evening they return, Seventh Avenue together with Lenox and Eighth Avenues and operated by colored men and women.

How does Seventh Avenue and to a greater degree Lenox and Eighth avenues look to those who pass up and down each morning and evening. It looks like the colored business district of Atlanta and Baltimore and Philadelphia and Buffalo and Cleveland and Birmingham and Detroit and Los Angeles and Montgomery and Pittsburgh and Columbus, Ohio, in other words it looks like hell. For the most part the establishments are run down, dilapidated, unpainted, in bad repair, with atrocious lettering on unwashed windows, and within if you can see through the windows the same condition exists.

Is the Negro inferior? Of course not—potentially but the Negro too often acts inferior, lives inferior and piles up on his own accord a tremendous burden so that it is difficult to reduce the shock of difference by which white people defend their prejudices.

I know that Negro business as a rule is not highly prosperous but certainly it is prosperous enough to seek the improvement which a little paint and soap and water can give. In the City of New York there is a Board of Trade and I suppose there are similar organizations composed of colored business men and women in every large American city. And to these organizations I offer the outline of a plan for the improvement of the appearance of business establishments in the so-called colored areas of our cities. I realize the plan cannot be put in operation until after the war but its preliminary phases can be started now.

My plan for New York City is a mass renovation of Seventh, Lenox and Eighth avenues between 125th street and 145th street. A committee from the Board of Trade could secure a pledge from each stable business which has been in existence three or more years that immediately after the war he will renovate his place of business. This committee should confer with the landlords, banks, holding mortgages, and the Post War Planning Committees of the city, state and federal government in order to arrange to help the business stores or women who cannot afford the cash outlay for complete renovation so that he might arrange to pay the cost in installments.

A special committee of architects should be organized to make a plan or plans for this wholesale renovation so that each merchant will have the benefit of advice as to the most economical and effective way to improve his business establishment. It should be possible to secure the cooperation of contracting firms pledged to employ Negroes to give an overall figure of the cost of painting or plastering—plate glass windows and modern fronts under the direction of this committee. And then, in the windows of some of the vacant stores on Seventh, Eighth and Lenox avenues there should be placed sample window displays changed every week so that the merchant on the avenue, be he Jew, Italian or Negro, can be instructed how to display his wares artistically and effectively.

There will of course be some bull-headed ones who won't cooperate and who want their establishments to look like a pig sty. But they won't be able to survive and compete with the establishments that dress up and are attractive in appearance. This same committee could go to the operators of the Hotel Theresa in the City of New York which is sadly in need of renovation and attempt to persuade them to do a sand blasting job and painting of the balcony and the window trim on the outside although how to keep some guests from sitting in the windows in their underwear might prove a more difficult problem. What will happen to us after the war is a question I hear everywhere. Well you don't have to guess. The answer is no mystery. We will be discharged from defense jobs by the thousands and we will also be discharged from most of the other jobs we were able to get because of the war. There will be hundreds of thousands of us out of work.

We can sing the blues and look for Relief, but Relief won't be so good as it was before the war. Or we can sit down and plan to do something that will not only help absorb the shock of unemployment, but will raise us in the esteem of those who shun us because we are different.

ONE DAY AT A TIME!

By Ruth Taylor

Great times call for great people. But isn't the crises that call for the greatest exercise of self-control and patience. It is the every day grind of monotonous, disagreeable tasks. We can stand sacrifices, but it's the giving up of little things which no one knows about that wears our tempers thin.

It's the plane spotting detail on a holiday evening—after weeks of nothing happening. It's the first-aid class on the first spring day. It's the store being out of butter when we've so carefully rationed our family. It's the conscience that makes us buy bonds when we want bright new clothes. It's all the things we do day in and day out that nobody notices, that makes us, not angry, but—worse still—fretful.

What we must do is to remember that ill temper in these days is the warning of the danger hour on the home front. It is the sign of the weakness in the fortifications, the break in the line—and, just as on the battlefield, so on the home front it means we must call up the reserves.

Why is it dangerous? Because through the gaps of discontent may come the saboteurs, those self-same sneak thieves who destroy the countries of Europe. They slow up work by saying—"You have done your share. Wait till the other fellow catches up with you." They delay the war effort by whispering, "Just this day off. You are only one day off. You won't be missed." They waste material by saying, "You can save tomorrow. Have what you want today."

Then when the will is weakened, come the tank troops—"Every one else is getting theirs. You're a sap. Get yours." They attack racial and religious groups, imputing to all the mistakes—common to all groups—of a few individuals. They make scapegoats and use them as alibis for negligence, indifference and selfishness.

And then—in through the breaks made by the tanks, pour the shock troops of the conqueror. How can we fight this subtle enemy? By throwing in the reserves of character before the line is weakened. By determined resistance to self-pity, discontent, discouragement, resentment, prejudice. I have a motto I always carry with me which helps me. In the hope that it may help others, I quote it here—

"Anyone can carry his burden, however heavy, till nightfall. Any one can do his work, however hard, for one day. Any one can live sweetly, patiently, lovingly, purely, till the sun goes down. And this is all that life ever really means."

CONFIDENTIALLY

The feeling of the Black American is not that of assault, murder or attack as some would have us believe, but in reality it is the feeling of insecurity made relevant by the fact that the law-enforcing units, even to the state militia and the federal military contingents, pour into our residential territories, with blood in their eyes, malice, hatred, and destruction in their hearts, armed with the latest and most modern equipment of our mechanized war and armed forces, disregarding the innocence of anyone, venging wholesale murder of the coldest and most irrevocable nature on an ordinarily law-abiding and docile people.

Instead of permitting kill-razzy white mobs loose in our territories to commit murder under police protection and assistance, they would throw a protective cordon of law enforcers around the Black American homes, the Negro Block Leaders or Civic Group Leaders could easily maintain the Peace and serenity that is usually ours, except for a few hoodlums which every race of people has its quota. It is known that whites invade Black neighborhoods for violence and destruction and not vice versa.

Temperance, fortitude, prudence and justice along with the tenets of their professions do not include their Black Brothers, yet those among the governing bodies, supposed to be broadminded enough to mete justice to all, are narrow to the extent that they always speak of a Black man's place, when if they kept their accord—keep some guests from sitting in the windows in their underwear might prove a more difficult problem.

What will happen to us after the war is a question I hear everywhere. Well you don't have to guess. The answer is no mystery. We will be discharged from defense jobs by the thousands and we will also be discharged from most of the other jobs we were able to get because of the war. There will be hundreds of thousands of us out of work.

We can sing the blues and look for Relief, but Relief won't be so good as it was before the war. Or we can sit down and plan to do something that will not only help absorb the shock of unemployment, but will raise us in the esteem of those who shun us because we are different.

ing to their obligations to mankind, ours, would automatically keep itself. Black Blood is not showing through white skin, but white blood is showing apparently thru black skin, in so great a volume that they are alarmed to so great an extent that they have forgotten the age-old adage that blood is thicker than water.

This fact is their own undoing, but they would rather hate the Black man through a forced feeling, with no real base, than to acknowledge that sooner or later their own foul-deeds are coming home to roost. A Christian and Brotherly tolerance is the only safe but untried remedy for our one-sided ideals and democratic principles.

SOUTH GROWING

My dear Mr. Hibbitt, Knowing your courageous and forthright stand for legal equity we thought you would be interested in this editorial from a southern white daily. (Signed)—M. Asheville, N. C. (The item appeared July 18 in the Asheville, N. C. Citizen-Times newspaper.)

NEEDED: SOME MURDER TRIALS

In its issue of June 23, The Citizen published in connection with its coverage of the Detroit riots one picture which attracted unusual attention. It showed a white ruffian assaulting a wounded Negro who was police officers.

Our readers will, we are sure, be pleased to learn that the hoodlum who committed this outrage has finally been apprehended, convicted and sentenced to serve 90 days in the Detroit House of Correction. The police officers were too busy at the time of the assault to place the culprit under arrest but persistent and clever detective work has resulted now in his apprehension and conviction. The revolting attack portrayed in this picture was just one incident in a carnival of bloody disorders. More than thirty persons were killed before the riots were brought under control. Many of the victims were unoffending persons who were murdered in the most wanton fashion.

Has any person yet been charged with murder in consequence of the riots? If he has, The Citizen-Times has not heard of it. The reports which have come to our attention have recounted only minor charges and trivial sentences.

If the South might presume to give justice to Detroit, the counsel would be exact justice for those persons of both races who committed the murders. Bring them to swift and stern justice. No community can compromise with mob violence or race rioting without storing up trouble for itself. The person who participates actively in a lynching or slays another in an outbreak of race disorders is a murderer. He should be punished as a murderer.

In giving such advice, the South would speak out of its own bitter experience. This section has been frequently and vehemently criticized in the Northern press for dealing too tenderly with mob crimes. Much of this criticism was deserved for there was a time when the South had much less than equal and exact justice for those who committed crimes as members of a mob against the Negro race.

What we have received in gratuitous criticism we now return in kindly advice. We know this terrible folly of regarding as lesser crimes heinous crimes committed in racial outbreaks. The ugly story of the Detroit riots should not be closed until those who murdered are tried convicted and sentenced as murderers.

R.R.E.: I have been going with a soldier for a year and he has been treating me fine. But somehow I have a feeling that I shouldn't take him so seriously. He treated me really during his furlough and I appreciated his hospitality. He appears to be nice but I believe he may be giving me just to keep me writing to him. Is this true?

Ans.: What more can the soldier do... he spent all of his furlough entertaining you, was a devoted companion and writes to you regularly... isn't that proof that he is a true friend? Just because he didn't ask you to marry him and force you to promise to wait for him is no reason that he doesn't admire you. He is using good judgment by keeping this affair on a friendly basis until he is in a position to get serious.

G. J.—I love my two step-daughters and they love me. My husband is so mean to me. Most of the time he is cross and mean to his own girls too. I don't give him any cause to be mean to me. He doesn't want me to spend any of his money and when I have to spend some he raises Cain. Now I've always been true blue. Must I get a job and go to work like I am planning? I'm desperate.

Ans.: It's essential that you have an income and if he refuses to give you enough money to feed you and his two children, then you must get work. He shouldn't get the benefit of your earnings if he doesn't respect you, but on the contrary, he should be made to care for these two children and provide a home for them. Make an effort to settle your differences and try to avoid a permanent separation.

H. J.—Will you please help me to decide whether it will be sound idea to go to California and get a defense job or stay here and try to get a job teaching?

Ans.: Finding employment is no task now. But it is important that you look for work that appeals to you. If teaching fascinates you more than anything else... stay there and apply for a teaching position. If you feel that you want to do defense work... register at the state employment office in your section and take an aptitude test and find out what type of defense work you can do best. If you take the defense job, you will have to leave home.

Heartbroken: My problem is beyond my control. I don't know what to do. I can't get this man off my mind. I want him so much sometimes I can't hardly control myself. What makes me feel the way I do toward him?

Ans.: You're disillusioned because he makes no attempt to encourage or discourage your attentions. He ignores you and this has a tendency to make you want to go to drastic lengths to gain his friendship. It's no use... calm yourself and get on friendly terms with the young men who are eager to go with you.

E. C.—I read your column every week. Please help me if you can. My husband and I have been married ten years, we have no children and he works and makes a good salary but I can't get him to save anything. What can we do to save?

Ans.: Buy War Bonds. Buy a bond a month and keep it up and once you two get the habit, you will really want to continue saving as long as you live. You could get a job and start the ball to rolling... save every penny that you can earn and live on your husband's salary. If you expect to be financially independent when you grow old, you must save while you are young and able to work.

W. C.—My aunt wants me to come to Ohio and stay with her. Said I could get a good paying job. I was there once and stayed several years and did better than I ever have here. Should I go?

Ans.: Make the change if you are dissatisfied where you are. She is very anxious to have you make your home with her. Finding a job won't be any problem. She already has one lined up for you. You need to learn to make friends... this is your main drawback.

Wonderin' (By Ricardo Weeks for ANP)

I wonder why the white folks are so mean. Wonder why they love to knock me round. I'm an American just like them. Only they're white and I'm brown. I'm doing my part on all the war fronts. Even in defense—morn, noon, and night. I'm buying bonds, paying taxes, too. I wonder when it ends will they treat me right.

Louis--Horseman and Golfer, Fair Baseball Player, Too

Bureau of Public Relations U. S. War Department
Colonel Stanley J. Grogan, acting director, Bureau of Public Relations, War Department, greets Sergeant Joe Louis, heavyweight champion, on his arrival. Sergeant Louis, who is on furlough, came to Washington to confer on plans for his forthcoming world tour of Service Posts for boxing exhibitions and physical conditioning lessons.

By Alvin Moses for ANP

NEW YORK, July 30. (ANP)—IN THE THEATRE OF SPORTS, Heavyweight Boxing Champion Joe Louis is a superior workman. He has broken and ridden wild mustangs at his own ranch. He is a better than country-fair baseball player. Reports from the Tam of Shant Golf Tourney in Chicago reveal Serviceman Louis as a golfer who shoots in the late 70's. A N. Y. Journal-American photo snapped Joe in a setting which found him surrounded by smiling American youngsters seeking serious-faced Joe's autograph and following his every move on the links.

Captain Imagination

Like Ruth
Two years ago through the medium of this column we styled Louis as a good will ambassador without portfolio. One who by his sportsmanlike mannerisms in and out of the roped-arena, literally tore down racial barriers erected under the unholy banner of discrimination and intolerance. Few figures in the annals of sport history have captured the imagination of the rabble as has the unlettered youth from the backwoods of Alabama. One has to search for such immortal sport figures as Ty Cobb, Bobby Jones, Honus Wagner, Paavo Nurmi, Jack Dempsey, et al. in order to make fair comparison with Louis' prowess. Possibly Lou Gehrig and Babe Ruth alone enjoyed greater national esteem than "Whadda-ye-know-Joe."

We Think Him Property-Poor
Being strictly a realist, this commentator wastes little time with flattering words. Aside from the sketchy publicity Joe received at the time he was scheduled to pay his Uncle Sam a sizable chunk of income tax, we are of the opinion that he is pressed for ready cash and we do mean pressed!

Vital statistics reveals that since that day Louis electrified the fist world as a Golden Glove, he has grossed the startling sum of $2,800,000. Group all of the Negro notables in the sport picture together and we doubt if they'd touch the Louis figure by half a million kopecks.

The law says specifically that: "the athlete shall receive 66 2/3 of his earnings" and the manager, that gullible species who doesn't have to take the blows, 33 1/3. You'll pardon our dear readers if we submit that Louis has not (in my opinion) received any such shake of the dice-box. We know that his managers of record, Messrs. Julian Black and John Roxborough, will maintain that he has. We also know that likable Joe, we do likewise. But along "Jacobs beach" where we've hung out for years after our real job assignments were over, you can find prominent New Yorkers who'll tell you "ten-cent-a-five" that I'm coming in on the beam... Savvy?

Joe Needs Dough
Uncle Mike Jacobs, that ex-tickler selling genius who gave Louis the change to go to the top with the handcuffs removed, would most likely attest, "Taint so." The Rasputin behind the modern fistie sport which has grown since Dempsey's day in one of America's biggest businesses, would brush it aside as the wild rantings of a misguided scribe.

From unimpeachable sources, however, we happen to know that Louis needs dough. Louis's visit to Jacobs in New York City recently didn't impress us as a social confab. Joe would like the money to be lifted in order that he might fight Conn, Melio Bettina or Cleveland's Jimmy Bivins. We also believe that he'd like to fight just once... for JOE LOUIS from a purse-percentage angle. Louis is much more generous in dishing out dough than most people realize. We know that he sorely misses Blackburn in this connection. Jack Blackburn was not only a great handkerchief in Joe's corner, he fought for Louis's CORRECT ring-end like no other man has before or since. If any writer in the country doubts this inside angle we now reveal... ask JOE LOUIS when you think he's in a mood to discuss and you'll wise up to the rottenness and exploitation that has always attended boxing. Louis needs money, and a fight with that great Irish youngster Billy Conn would give him the chance to face the post-war period like he should.

NBA Lists Bivins in Heavies; Whites Rating Draws Fire

WASHINGTON, July 30. (ANP)—Jimmy Bivins, Cleveland heavyweight, was named last week in the quarterly ratings of the National Boxing Association as the logical contender for the world title held by Sgt. Joe Louis. Previously Louis himself has declared Bivins the leading contender. Bivins was awarded the top spot although he was named behind Billy Conn and Melio Bettina. The latter two fighters are in the army. Turkey Thompson of Los Angeles was also given a spot in the rankings.

"Sluggo" White, the Baltimore lightweight moved up in the division despite a dispute regarding his following of Sammy Angott and Bob Montgomery over the crown. Angott has retired, and Montgomery is recognized by the New York State Boxing Commission as the kingpin. Al Green, president of NBA, said he hoped to arrange a bout between the two principals to settle the quarrel.

Several titles were frozen for the duration by the national ranking society among them the crown of Louis, who is serving with the army.

Add Franks to All-Star Squad Facing Champion Redskins Aug. 25

CHICAGO, July 30. (ANP)—Julius Franks, all-American guard from the University of Michigan, has been named to the All Star squad selected by the Chicago Tribune to play the Washington Redskins, national professional football champions, under the lights at Dwyer Stadium Aug. 25.

Franks, the second Negro to play football at Michigan, was ranked the leading guard in the Big 10 last year. From Hamtramck, Mich., he weighs 190 pounds and is possessed of unusual strength and speed. He will continue his studies in the dental college and another year of varsity competition.

in the history of boxing to hold three titles at the same time, was listed as a contender for the laurels worn by Freddie Cochran. Armstrong is in the midst of a comeback trail.

Other boxers winning ranks in the ratings were Lloyd Marshall of California, Nate Bolden of Illinois and Ezzard Charles of the army among the light-heavyweights; Holman Williams of Michigan and Charles Burley of Pennsylvania were named among the middleweights.

Ray Robinson of the army, Jackie Wilson of the army, and Henry Armstrong of Los Angeles were named contenders in the welterweight division. Beau Jack of Georgia and Willie Joyce of Indiana were assigned berths in the lightweight class, with Chalky Wright of Los Angeles showing for the featherweights.

The only divisions in which Negroes were not rated were the bantamweight and flyweight divisions.

Here's the Line-up, Mr. Kipling As East Meets West at Chi

CHICAGO, July 31. (ANP)—It's East-West time! The 11th annual "dream game" comes up for decision Sunday afternoon at Chicago's huge Comiskey Park and to say that interest is running high is putting it mildly. The classic fight to draw capacity, which is 52,000 for the park.

The record-breaking nation wide poll of fans, the presence of so many favorites in action and the fact that the West team, selected from the clubs of the Negro American League, appears to have an excellent chance of halting the East's three-year winning streak all have spurred interest in the game, not to mention the fact that it is the social event of the year as well.

As expected, the peerless Leroy "Satchel" Paige of the Kansas City Monarchs topped all vote-getters. Of the Negro National League, representing the East, Catcher Josh Gibson of the Washington-Homestead Grays, Shortstop Horacio Martinez of the New York Cubans and Pitcher Dave "Impo" Barnhill of the latter club paced the balloting.

The West, with Frank Duncan of the Monarchs at the helm and W. S. Welch of Livingstone of Memphis as his assistant, is really confident of winning and reducing the East's margin in the series, now standing at six to four. The American Leagues feel they have everything to turn the trick this time—great pitching, power at bat, speed and flashy defense. As to be expected, the East, on the other hand is just as sure that it will again triumph. All that remains, therefore, is for the call of "play ball," to be issued and the issue of supremacy decided on the playing field.

Several of the players who won places in the balloting will not be able to participate because of illness or other reasons, and substitutions have been made for them. This list includes Buck O'Neil, first baseman, and Hilton Smith, pitcher, both of the Kansas City Monarchs.

While the starting lineups at the time of this writing had not been decided on by the rival managers—Vic Harris of the Grays for the East and Frank Duncan of the Monarchs for the West—it was expected that Paige would get the call for the West against either Leon Day of the Newark Eagles to Barnhill for the East.

Here are the players who made the grade for the "dream game."

East
Pitchers: Leon Day, Newark; William Harvey, Baltimore; Dave Barnhill, New York Cubans; Barney Brown, Philadelphia; John Wright, Baltimore.

Catchers: Josh Gibson, Washington; Bob Clark, New York Black Yankees.

First Base: Buck Leonard, Washington, Second base: Sam Bankhead, Washington; Shortstop, Horacio Martinez, Cubans; Third Base: Roy Easterling, Washington. Infield utility: Dan Wilson, Harrisburg.

Outfield: Henry Kimbro, Baltimore; "Cool Papa" Bell, Washington; Lew Pearson, Newark. Outfield utility: Juan Vazquez, Cubans. Manager: Vic Harris, Washington.

West
Pitchers: "Satchel" Paige, Kansas City; Theophile Smith, Cleveland; Gread McKinnis, Birmingham; Gentry Jessup, Chicago; Porter

Moore, Memphis.
Catchers: Larry Brown, Memphis; Paul Harley, Birmingham; Ted Redcliffe, Chicago.

First base: Ed Young, Chicago, and Reece Tatum, Cincinnati. Second base: Tommy Sampson, Birmingham, and Fred Bankhead, Memphis. Shortstop: Jesse Williams, Kansas City, and Ralph Wyatt, Chicago. Third base: Parnell Woods, Cleveland, and Alec Radcliffe, Chicago.

Outfield: Willard Brown, Kansas City; Neil Robinson and Holland Hude, Memphis; Fred Wilson, Cincinnati; Thad Christopher, Cleveland; Lloyd Davenport, Chicago.

Manager: Frank Duncan, Kansas City. Coach: W. S. Welch, Birmingham.

BARONS PROVE BIG FAVORITES

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—The entire country seems to be in accord on the subject of the Birmingham Black Barons, first-half winners in the Negro American League. It further proof was needed, a look at the voting on players for the East-West classic should be sufficient.

No fewer than five of the Birmingham stars were voted places on the West squad, and that doesn't include Manager W. S. Welch, who was named one of the coaches. Last year he piloted the West team Pitcher Gread ("Lefty") McKinnis, Catcher Paul Hardy, Second baseman Tommy Sampson and Outfielders Lester Lockett and Felix McLaurin all got the call, and it's no secret either that several of the other Black Barons polled plenty of votes.

The Black Barons conclude their hectic traveling series with the New York Cubans of the Negro National League with games July 27 and 28 at Pelican Stadium in New Orleans and July 29 at Rickwood Field, Birmingham. The "Dixie Diamonders" then remain in Birmingham for a crucial Negro American League second-half doubleheader with the Chicago American Giants, August 1.

With Alonzo ("Blue") Dunn, their star first-baseman, slated soon for army induction, the Black Barons have protected themselves handsily by bringing back the veteran Leroy Morney.

A sensation on the four-team doubleheader card at Wrigley Field in Chicago, July 18, when "Satchel Paige Day" was staged, Birmingham has been honored with an invitation to head the next big card at that park on Sunday afternoon, August 15. The bid has been accepted.

CONNY CONNELL'S BAND AND GERALDINE BUTLER 100 PER CENT GROOVY

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 30.—Conny Connell, "The Jump Maestro" and His Groovy Band with Geraldine Butler to be "on the scene" with plenty of "groove" as they continue to rock and romp their way to fame via the Syncopated Swing route.

Conny and the gang are really doing all "right" for themselves, as the Ferguson Bros. Agency, their exclusive managers, say that they can't fill the requests for appearances of this hot jump combo.

Geraldine Butler, a "little" girl with lots of personality sends the folk with her dynamic vocalizing of popular swing songs and she seems to be a powerful bit of versatility according to reports from the Southwest.

The band has as features along with Geraldine Butler, Walter "Fang" Smith, blues shouter from bonist, and the Connell sextette who's motto is "We like to riff."

The Connell unit is currently featured at "Scott's" Famous Theatre Restaurant, Kansas City's post popular dine and dance spot.

Milton Larkin's Band Plays Hot Music

HOUSTON, Texas July 30.—Milton Larkin the home-town boy who rocked the nation with his Syncopated Swing and his great band were given a royal welcome and a glamorous home-coming here last Thursday night at the city auditorium when they packed and jammed the place to see and hear what their loyal son had to offer after his triumphs in the East and Mid-west, where he has been dishing out hot music in the original style that makes him one of America's outstanding band leaders.

Will The Carolina Cotton Pickers Be The Next Name Band To Reach The Top In 1943

(By DAVE CLARK)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 30.—Will the Carolina Cotton Pickers get the breaks they deserve? Will they become a victim of the Syndicates? Or will they be rated down the Mediocre Bands? These are questions that are asked by musicians, bookers, critics, press agents and in fact nearly every one connected with the dance band business.

The Carolina Cotton Pickers under the leadership of Leroy Hardison, a charter member of the organization, has proven to be one of America's Top Dance Bands and can swing with the best of them excluding none. These boys have come a long way together. I can remember when the boys were members of the Jenkins School Band down in Charleston, S. C. and when they exchanged the Overtures for Swing Ballads—when you mention the name Jenkins and the Carolina Cotton Pickers Band to musicians today they draw up. Why? Because they know that these words mean competition.

The Cotton Pickers has one of the greatest bands in the business and is proving to be just what critics years ago said they would do. So far the Syndicates have been able to break up this band as they do many bands that offer competition to so-called name units. But the day has come when the public see what they want and get it. If you hear the present Carolina Cotton Pickers orchestra you'll agree that it has just what the public demands in modern entertainment.

The Cotton Pickers featuring Wesley Jones, singer of sweet songs and Gate Mouth Moore, Blues Shouter, along with 16 other hard-hitting swingsters are sure to go places regardless what the swell heads and bought critics say: They are slated for a brief tour with the Mills Bros., to be followed by a series of USO shows, the Cotton Pickers are under the personal management of the Ferguson Bros. Agency, Inc., Indianapolis, Ind.

ROOSEVELT SYKES, THE HONEY DRIPPER, JUMPS SOLID IN ST. LOUIS, MO.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 30.—The Blues goes on a rampage, every night at the Australian Night club here when Roosevelt Sykes, the "Honey Dripper", tips in port with his bundle of solid blues.

Sykes, one of the country's outstanding blues singers, jumps the keys off of the piano with his style of "woogie" tunes.

After Captivating the South and Southwest Christine and her Swingers head eastward to add more laurels to their long string of swing victories, where the folk on the East coast will have chance to hear America's greatest "Boogie Woogie" Exponent and Her Cats as they ride into town on the "Boogie Woogie Express."

CHRISTINE CHATMAN 'JUMPS' FOR ARMY FLYERS ENROUTE EAST

TUSKEGEE AIR SCHOOL, TUSKEGEE, Ala., July 30.—Christine Chatman, "Boogie Woogie" Queen, and her Boogie Band gave out in the Chatman manner here last night when she rocked the entire Tuskegee Air Field with her torrid 8 beat rhythm. The boys say they really enjoyed their "Session" with Chatman, and that the Little Girl is on page one in their Books.

THE MOST MOMENTOUS STORY OF OUR TIMES ON SCREEN SUNDAY

JOSEPH E. DAVIES' FAMED BOOK BASIS OF NEWSTRAND FILM

Screen audiences will find a new kind of thrill in the splendid motion picture, "Mission to Moscow", which opened to a capacity audience at the Walker theatre Sunday. It is the absorbing thrill of discovering the dramatic "side story" of the most exciting period in the history of the world. It is a slice of history that is barely yesterday; the tense years of crisis that began in 1936, and are still a fresh, vital part of the world-shaking events of today.

Sent To Learn Truth

This is the heartening story of a clear-visioned American ambassador, Joseph E. Davies played by Walter Huston, who was sent to learn the truth about Russia. It was no simple assignment, for that country was surrounded by, and part of, the welter of intrigues, suspicions and animosities of a world on the brink of war.

What the ambassador saw appears on the screen as his own eyes saw it. Churchill, Stalin, Litvinov, Shacht, Laval, Molotov and many other such widely known figures are duplicated for the screen in an unprecedented feat of casting, to project with startling realism the amazing "true story" of our time.

The film moves with sustained excitement and suspense from the famous and fateful session of the League of Nations in June, 1936, when Haile Selassie and Maxim Litvinov pleaded for collective security and resistance to aggressors, through the quick series of head-line incidents and events which followed the failure to heed their pleas.

Moscow Trials Recreated

The sensational Moscow trials come to vivid life again, as the Russian Government purges those who might have become the "fifth columnists" and "Quislings" for German and Japanese conquests.

"Nightmare" Starts Sunday at the Park Theater

Thrill, Chill Show At Park Tues.

"Frankenstein Meets the Wolf Man", Universal's latest horror picture, has Bela Lugosi (L) in the role of the Frankenstein monster, Lon Chaney Jr. portrays the Wolf Man. The picture starts Tuesday at the Park.

Miss Diana Barrymore is living up to the Royal Family traditions. She is being very dramatic and is not leaving any teeth-marks in the scenery, either.

In fact, it is reported that she was the delight of her latest director, Tim Whelan, who piloted her before the cameras in Universal's "Nightmare", coming Sunday to the Park theatre. Diana is co-starred with Brian Donlevy in the new film which marks her third appearance on the screen.

"Eagle Squadron" was her first picture. Her second movie, "Between Us Girls", was what the boys called a "tulu". She played light comedy in that one and was very deft about it all.

In "Nightmare", a mystery-romance, she appears in the part of a young lady faced off against a gambler, played by Donlevy. It is all said to be very emotional, and about secret codes, spies and saboteurs.

Two of the screen's most fearsome horror purveyors combine their wickedness to provide a double measure of chills and thrills in Universal's latest shock-film, "Frankenstein Meets the Wolf Man", coming Tuesday to the Park theatre. The picture said to contain even more of the stark action drama which is credited for the success of the sensational "Frankenstein" series of films, continues the deprecations of the famous monster and this time, the fiend is assisted by another frightening creation, the Wolf Man.

Spine-chilling innovations are promised in every reel of the new drama which stars Ilona Massey and Patric Knowles. Miss Massey has the role of Baroness Elsa Frankenstein, who lives under the shadow of the Frankenstein tradition. Knowles appears as Dr. Mannerling, who follows the mysterious Wolf Man from one fiendish crime to another until the trail leads to the Frankenstein castle and the monster.

Bela Lugosi is seen as the monster.

Starts Sunday At The Walker

GENE POPE WITH MAY BELLE ROCKS SUNSET TERRACE

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 30.—"Genial Gene" Pope and his Synco-sophisticated Swing with May Belle, sensational swing singer, kept the cats in the groove from start to finish the Sunset Terrace here Sunday night.

May Belle, new Ferguson Bros. singing find, knocked the house out with her rendition of the popular "Hey Lawdy Mama" in her own original style. She also stole their hearts away with the sweet numbers, "Till Get By" and "So Long". This buxom bit of rhythm is sure to go places as she is in the class with America's leading feminine vocalists, and supported by Pope and his great band, this star was really terrific.

The Pope unit has one of America's top drummers in the person of Earl Walker, former Tiny Bradshaw hide kicker he woveposed old man rhythm up with his swing rim shots and licks on the ride numbers dished out by Pope and the boys.

Derby Hall, the "Jumping Dynamo", kept them shouting with his acrobatic style of fronting for the Pope unit. As a while the Pope band is a sure cure for the blues.

At Park Sunday

Diana Barrymore and Brian Donlevy are co-starred in Universal's "Nightmare," which opens Sunday at the Park.

Col. Noel F. Parrish, Commanding Officer of the Tuskegee Army Air Field, spiced with his usual pleasing humor, set the tempo for the rousing celebration festivities at the gala dedication of the club. Extreme heat drenched the backs of the jubilant throng that attended but was of little discomfort to the music lovers as they swung out to the torrid notes of two bands.

Instrumental in stamping the occasion a huge success was Eddie "I Don't Want to Set the World On Fire" Durham and his All Girl Rhythm Band. Creating more of a riot than any band to visit these parts, they chalked up a high score for the Imperial Wings of Rhythm to shoot at. The "imps", however, bided fair to match their visiting opponents in the wild "jam session" that ensued.

Added to the gaiety of the evening were the charming visitors from Atlanta, Birmingham and surrounding USO Centers, who blended with the spectrum of colorful femininity.

The new club's charming director, Mrs. Eugene B. Wood, Howard university graduate from Mt. Bayou, Miss., along with Captain Fred B. Minnis, head of the Special Service Office, and the many painters, artists and decorators deserve much credit for the fulfillment of many a G. I.'s wish in this gala dedication and opening.

TUSKEGEE ARMY AIR FIELD Ala., July 30.—After nearly fifteen months of planning and unceasing preparation, the Tuskegee Army Air Field Service club stood sleek and ready for inspection on Friday July 15, and held its long-awaited formal dedication and opening. The auspicious structure of modern architectural design, rises majestically off the main north thoroughfare as a monumental welcome to the many friends of the Tuskegee Army Air Field. Housing a broad inviting lounge and hardwood dance floor with an adjacent impressive blue room for social games, and an exquisite snack bar with veranda luncheonette, this club house is as claimed as one of the finest in this section. Modernistic furniture, rationed for the duration, adds an expensive air to the interior, and satisfying comfort to its many regular visitors and enlisted men.

Much credit is due Lt. Col. John T. Hazard, Post Executive Officer, for his co-operation with the Special Service department under Captain Fred B. Minnis in his negotiating for the Club's construction. Congratulatory remarks by Lt.

KING OF TRUMPET MEN COMES TO SUNSET JULY 31

"King Kolax" his educated trumpet and his orchestra, are booked to play at Sunset Terrace Jump Session Saturday night July 31 the jitterbugs and the lovers of real up-to-date swing are in for some solid "out the world" jungle swing. They were holding a jam session at the Savoy ballroom one night in the month of May in 1940 some of America's top swing men were present and all the cats had their axes sharp for some deep cutting. Saxen, Trumpet men, Drummers, all kind of musicians were there. As the session started and the cats started swinging their favorite numbers to decide who was better than who, a young fellow came up from out of nowhere and asked to set in on the session. The other guys gave each other the nod and one said, Come up kid and get your feet wet.

This young fellow with his horn under his arm hit the stand in two jumps and told the pianist to take "Honey Suckle Rose" in E flat, his favorite number. The piano man started to swing with the rest of the cats shooting the riffs for a background for this youngster who was about to get off the solo. This kid raised his horn toward the ceiling and started blowing and for 10 choruses he kept them jumping, hitting the high notes with a different riff for every chorus.

When this kid had finished, one of the old timers said, There is your new King of the Trumpet, and this new King was "King Kolax", who later organized his own band and held down the job as

'CONFESSIN' THE BLUES ORK AT 'SET' SUN. NITE

Jay McShann and "the band that jumps the blues", featuring Walter Brown on "Confessin' the Blues" fame will appear at the Sunset Terrace on Sunday nite Aug. 1st. The band is now on a cross country tour en route to Hollywood. The band is coming from New York where they have been knocking 'em for a solid sender at the famous Savoy Ballroom nightly for the past six months. The cat has been heard three times weekly over the Blue Network and his recording of the Blues are famous all over the world. Jay McShann and his orchestra gained fame overnight with the recording of "Confessin' the Blues". His newest and latest recording is sweeping the country, "Lonely Boy Blues", vocal by Walter Brown, and is backed up by Jay McShann's entire new band. The back side of this Decca record is a very fine instrumental tune called "Sepian Bounce".

Jay McShann, the famous Kansas City pianist, who on a very recent broadcast of Duke Ellington's, had his work on one of his recent "Hit" recordings mistaken by some critics in the studio as being the work of the "Duke", to which mistake Ellington replied, "I wish I could play like that, but that's Jay McShann on the piano." This proves that McShann is not considered great only by his dancing public but also by the finest musicians in the country. McShann was recently selected by Count Basie as one of the six greatest pianists in the country. One of his recent recordings, "Vine Street Boogie" shows and gives the listener a good idea of the excellent style he has. Jay's newest record is a surprise to many, due to the fact that it is a beautifully executed ballad named, "GET ME ON YOUR MIND", featuring Debby Robinson and destined to be one of Jay's finest and most popular records, thus proving the versatility of Jay McShann.

"Cabin in the Sky" Starts Sunday at the Douglas

"Road to Morocco" at Indiana Sunday

With such stars as Ethel Waters, "Rochester", Lena Horne, Louis Armstrong, Kenneth Spencer, Duke Ellington and his band, Buck and Bubbles, Rex Ingram and a host of others in the picture, little wonder that Arthur Freed, producer of "Cabin in the Sky", at the Douglas theatre, Sunday had his hands full with "visiting firemen" on the M-G-M lot.

Two stages were working at the same time. One had Ethel Waters and "Rochester" singing the theme song, "Cabin in the Sky", together. The other set had Lena Horne and a group of jitterbugs swinging feverishly to the music of Duke Ellington and his band.

It Happened Like That

Freed had just come out of his office and reached the first set to find Lena Horne, Melvyn Douglas, Susan Peters and Pierre Almont, the new French star, intently watching Ethel and "Rochester". Then he moved over to the adjacent set and found Red Skelton, Donna Reed, Signe Hasso and Ann Sothorn enjoying the jitterbugs and Ellington's music.

The producer didn't mind a bit. He would have done the same thing had his name been one of those spotted on the sidelines. Because when you're making pictures and can catch the interest of the stars and directors on the lot, as happened in "Cabin in the Sky" it's a definite assurance the public will be as eager to see it on screen.

In other words, the interest of the stars in a picture while it is being made, particularly when they are not in it, is a sure advance sign of audience appeal.

Vincente Minnelli directed the film based on the successful stage show. Several additional musical numbers have been added to the original portfolio of hit tunes.

Dorothy Lamour co-stars with Bing Crosby and Bob Hope in "Road to Morocco" starting Sunday at Hill's Indiana.

The boys are whooping it up at Indiana theatre as only they can. "They" being Bing Crosby and Bob Hope, movie patrons are in for the time of their movie-going lives. Bing and Bob are to be seen there—with lovely Dorothy Lamour—in Paramount's newest and funniest "Road to Morocco" which starts Sunday at the Indiana theatre.

"Road to Morocco", the successor and topper to "Road to Zanzibar" which followed on the heels of "Road to Singapore," tells of the adventures of Bing and Bob, a couple of stowaways who are shipwrecked on the coast of unsuspecting Morocco. In order to have money with which to pay a dinner bill Bing sells Bob to a native for two hundred dollars.

It turns out, however, the purchaser is none other than the Princess Shalmar (Dorothy Lamour) who has strictly honorable intentions toward Bob. He finds himself living in the lap of luxury, dressing like a Prince, and enjoying all the privileges of Shalmar's husband-to-be. Bob seems to be sitting pretty. Bing does all he can to unsettle him, and move in himself. Neither Bob nor Bing knows that the marriage deal was arranged because it is written in the stars that Shalmar's first husband will die within a week after the wedding, at which time she plans to marry Sheikh Anthony

Quinn. That's just part of the zany proceedings which hit new high in movie hilarity. Bing, Bob and Dotty have never been funnier.

DEMAND GRAND JURY PROBE DETROIT RIOT

DETROIT, July 30, (ANP)—Demands were made upon Mayor Edward J. Jeffries last week by his inter-racial committee, investigating the causes behind the recent race clash here to authorize the grand jury to make further inquiry into the disorder. Thirty-four persons were killed in the riot.

William J. Norton, chairman of the committee, said that the members have voted unanimously to ask William W. Dowling, Wayne county prosecutor, for a one man grand jury investigation of unsolved crimes growing out of the riot.

APPEALS CONVICTION

Miss Vera Scarborough, 21 years old, 135 Puryear st., appealed a conviction in Municipal Court on a charge of theft. She stated that she took $400 from her employer after it had fallen out of his pants on the basement steps.

The employer got the money from Miss Scarborough and said that he wanted no further compensation but Judge John L. McNelis said that what she did was a crime against the state. He fined her $1

The junior and senior missionary society of the AME church of Columbus entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Pennybaker, 908 7th st., with a dinner in honor of Mr. Pennybaker who left for military service July 23rd. A number of members and friends enjoyed a very pleasant evening. Out of town guests were P. J. Kelly of Camp Atterbury, Rev. and Mrs. Edgar Maddox, Mr. and Mrs. Mode Pennybaker, Miss Billie Phillips and Miss Kathryn Lee. Rev. Maddox addressed the group after which Mr. Pennybaker addressed the group with a farewell speech. We all hope for him good health and God-speed.

Worn Out? No Pep?

Try medicinal Iron plus Vitamin B.

People have often been positively amazed at what a little peping up with Oxyel could do for them.

Their worn-out, peevish condition was due to a lack of medicinal iron plus Vitamin B.

You may need them, too, for pep, vim, vitality. Try Oxyel today! It's the only one that gives you the pep you need.

500M BOOM!

Uncle Sam's men finally discovered where Leo Floyd and Howard 'ottman were hiding. They left it on the twenty-third—so looks like "Adolph" will really have to "take off" now.

Otis Barnett sent me his snapshot the other day. There was another guy standing beside him, but Otis cut him off—(explaining that the kat looked too bad).

Taking Martha Adams' word for it, Earl Browder is about the sweetest thing in a sailor's uniform this side of the battle line.

Of course, Ruth Dixon has an altogether different version of the situation. She says that the finest sailor living is in California.

But Myrtle Force contradicts the both. She's all for the Army. That's why we can never get stamps at the Post Office. She uses them all writing to that Myer's boy.

SHOWERS OF ROSES: To our local USO Cadets, They're the cream of the crop.

To mention a few we have Mary Arnold, Elizabeth Blackburn, Mary Davis, Katie Grimes, Birdie Harper, Della Johnson, Marjorie Haynes, and Mary Robertson.

Seriously speaking, these little girls are really doing a great big job. And if more of our girls would give their spare time to this organization, so many of our young soldiers would not be lured to the unchaperoned places of entertainment.

To the USO Cadets we doff our bonnets!

DON'T FORGET TO LOOK UNDER THE RUG!

It has been said that one can always tell when a new man comes to work a "C. W." Such sweeping and dust flying, you've never seen.

(Take it easy, Billy—the war will wait for you.)

The gang stepped out on a Saturday night—and who do you suppose we should run into but Uncle Sam's favorite nephew, Herbert Watts? (who by the way, is very much "that way" over a certain Miss Mary Taylor and simply goes sentimental when he hears Erskine Hawkins' arrangements of "Don't Cry Baby")

We dug our way to the Masonic Hall, where RCA was in the midst of a victorious victory ball.

Things were almost like they used to be. The first persons we spotted were Hannah Payne, Jean Morris and Rosa Lewis. Hadn't seen these kids for years.

Everyone seemed to have been in the spirit of things. Lot's of kids were there, such as Dorothy Payne, Mildred Shank, Emerson Senour, Jack Bridges, Marjorie Graham and just gobs of others.

Dorothy Pride and her twin sister had everyone looking double. Couldn't tell which was which.... (No, Zenobia, they really aren't sisters).

CLICK, CLICK!

Guess who's ashamed of his middle name...Robert Parrott (ace non-professional baseball fan).... It's Cortez.

Miles may be between them, but according to vital statistics, Buster Mitchell and Wilma Boyd are the happiest newlyweds in the country.

Buster was home on furlough not long ago. He and Hunky Taylor came together.

The Country Fair came on with a Boom. No matter how old one gets, he never grows up when Ferris Wheels and shooting galleries are around.

Duncan Vaulx was just as enthusiastic and wild-eyed with excitement as a twelve-year-old.

Everyone knows how reserved Pete Loree is, nevertheless, we saw him "kookey" standing in line awaiting his ride on the Ferris Wheel.

Well, Time is fleeting and I really must be going. If you know something I don't know, don't forget to call Ta. 9165 and ask for me.

South Side Community center, is a beautiful section of the city along the Anthony Wayne trail, a beautiful highway leading from Toledo to Cincinnati, yet is far removed from social centers in the other sections of the city. Knowing this to be the fact, the residents in this community have planned to purchase a place for the social and recreational life of the young people, and community in general. We call your attention to our membership campaign, and solicit the membership of our many friends in this worthy cause. This center is in a beautiful sight right on the highway. 550 members will clear our property of all indebtedness. Also we have some equipment for the activity of the children, but not enough to supply all of them.

We had a very fine group meeting with quite a deal of enthusiasm last Tuesday evening. We organized in this meeting three teams which will meet together each Tuesday evening during the campaign at 7:30 p. m. Our group captains, and workers are as follows: Team 1, Capt. Amatha Allen; workers, Mozella Knabb, Magnolia Wilson, Willa Brown, Walter Snipes, Maggie Davenport.

Team 2, Capt. Paralee Smith; workers, Eugene Taylor, James E. Bond, R. L. Brown, Lulu Coley, McKinley Drane, Team 3, Capt. Elizabeth McClelland; workers, Louise McClelland, Louise Brooks, Jane Brooks. Each captain is asked to report each Tuesday evening. Joseph Smith, president.
